TRYING TO SECURE NEW CANDIDATE

REPUBLICANS FEAR DEFEAT IN NOVEMBER

President Taft and Col. Roosevelt May Be Asked to Withdraw From Contest

Washington, D. C., July 9.—A nation wide movement to petition President Taft to withdraw as the Republican presidential candidate is being backed by a large number of Republican office-holders, who feel they face defeat in November unless the breach in the party can be healed.

These men include members of congress, members of state legislatures which will elect state senators, county office-holders and party candidates. If the movement succeeds in gaining any volume, it is said these same men may ask Col. Roosevelt to withdraw as a prospective candidate for an independent nomination, and to permit a compromise selection of some man agreeable to both factions of the party. It is the desire of the promoters of the scheme that a decision be reached before August 5, when the Roosevelt faction plans to hold a convention in Chicago.

The circulation of petitions, it was said yesterday, would start within a week. It was said the movement would be begun simultaneously in every state.

The movement is in the hands of several well-known members of congress. They are being aided by many extreme Roosevelt Republicans. The enlistment of the National Progressive organization in the movement has been sought, and it was said that Senator Dixon's organization was willing to cooperate.

The publicity given to the plans of progressive Republican members of the house to circulate petitions calling on President Taft to withdraw as head of the Republican national ticket had the effect to-day of retarding the development, if not actually circumventing the scheme. Further inquiry today developed the fact that what was proclaimed yesterday as a general nation-wide movement to circulate petitions amongst voters had been confined almost entirely to several leading progressives of the house. The reported support of leading conservative Republicans, it was admitted, probably will not be forthcoming.

Representative Davies, of Minnesota, has been actively advocating the drafting of petitions to be sent out through the country for voters' signatures. He had a conference with Senator Dixon, campaign manager for Col. Roosevelt, and it is understood it was discussed. No agreement was reached by the progressives to take up the petition plan, and it was rumored that lack of general support was responsible for the delay.

Anti-Taft members of the senate, together with several from the house, have decided to draw up a statement criticising the nomination made at Chicago, and setting forth their belief that President Taft was not legally nominated. This will be offered to all progressives for signature to be used as a campaign statement.

WILL BUILD PAPER PLANT AT SEATTLE

Eastern Capitalists to Make Initial Investment of $500,000

Seattle, Wash., July 9.—Eastern capitalists are now organizing a company which will make an initial investment of $500,000 in this city on a paper plant, which will not only be the first of its kind erected in Seattle, but outside of one plant in California, will be the best plant of its kind on the coast.

The plans for the establishment of the paper mill in Seattle have gone so far that arrangements have been made for obtaining, under a long time contract, a supply of pulp from the Ocean Falls Company, Limited, of British Columbia. The Ocean Falls Company, Limited, is one of the corporations organized by Lester W. David, of this city. The negotiations for the furnishing of the supply of pulp sufficient to supply the needs of the paper mill to be erected in this city have been going on in the East for some time. The pulp will be brought to Seattle on barges.

WOMAN DRINKS POISON.

Seattle, Wash., July 9.—Mabel Middleton, 23, in a fit of despondency, drank nearly an ounce of carbolic acid at 2 o'clock this morning, death following before medical assistance could be summoned. It seems that the girl was out of work and could not succeed in obtaining a situation. Early this morning she called on a fellow lodger, May Brown, and showed her the bottle still containing some of the poison. Miss Brown seized the phial, and called for assistance. Death, however, came too quickly.

JUDGMENT RESERVED.

London, July 9.—The judicial committee of the Privy Council yesterday reserved judgment in the following Canadian case. The Toronto & Niagara Power Co. vs. the corporation of the town of North Toronto, a dispute as to the appellants' right to go upon the streets of North Toronto for the purpose of erecting poles to carry their power lines.

NEW OFFICIAL.

London, Ont., July 9.—Hon. Adam Beck confirmed a report that Professor Hill, of Minnesota, has been appointed chief of the Hygienic institute in this city.

ANOTHER FRENCH AVIATOR KILLED

MEETS DEATH IN VIEW OF THOUSANDS

Monoplane Strikes Telegraph Wires and Falls to the Ground

Chalons-sur-Marne, France, July 9.—Rena Bedel, one of the most experienced airmen and holder of the Pommery cup for cross-country flight which he won from Jules Vedrines, met death to-day before the eyes of several thousands of French troops who were assembled on the reviewing ground at Mourmelon-Le-Grand-Nar.

Bedel, who had come in his monoplane from Villa Coublay, near Paris, to participate in the manoeuvers, arrived above the camp after a fine flight. He was about to descend when his monoplane struck the telegraph wires which prevailing haze evidently prevented him from seeing. His machine fell to the ground and he was caught beneath it and crushed to death.

BESSIE McCOY WEDS.

Greenwich, Conn., July 9.—Richard Harding-Davis, the author, and Miss Elizabeth McAvoy, daughter of Lawrence McAvoy, well known on the stage as Bessie McCoy, the "Yama Yama Girl," were married yesterday morning in Greenwich at the law office of Wm. C. Rungee, justice of the peace, who officiated. Mrs. Russell Colt, Ethel Barrymore, was maid of honor, and Gouverneur Morris, the short-story writer, who was a fellow classmate at Yale with Justice Rungee, was best man. The wedding party reached Greenwich in three automobiles.

Mr. Davis obtained his marriage licence from the town clerk, giving his age 48, occupation as author. He gave his bride's name, her parents' names, her occupation as an actress, and her age as 24.

REPORTS SHOW GROWTH OF ELKS

Subordinate Lodges Now Own Property Valued at $20,391,832

Portland, Ore., July 9.—According to the annual report of Grand Secretary Fred C. Robinson, read to the convention to-day, the total valuation of property owned by the subordinate lodges of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks at the close of the fiscal year, March 31, was $20,391,832.45, which, according to the report, makes the order the wealthiest in America. Portland lodge, number 142, is the richest lodge in the Elkdom, surpassing by a goodly margin all other subordinate branches. The assets are $345,084.61. New York is second with $335,700.49. The next eight in order are Brooklyn, $247,163; Sacramento, $183,806; Youngstown, Ohio, $175,466; San Francisco, $173,561; Jacksonville, Florida, $168,927; Spokane, $164,874; Seattle, $142,678; Philadelphia, $138,024. There are twenty-one lodges, in the order whose assets exceed $100,000.

The total membership in the order as shown by Secretary Robinson's report is 384,724, a net increase of 25,065 in the past year.

The total receipts of the grand lodge from all sources exceeded those of the previous year by $97,241. The total disbursements was $105,204. The surplus on hand amounts to $406,333. The total amount received by subordinate lodges from all sources was $7,928,134, and amount expended $7,839,489, leaving a balance on hand of $1,758,298.

During the year 29 lodges were instituted. The report shows thirty-one lodges with a membership of over 1,000. Brooklyn No. 22 shows the record for the best growth. This lodge received 1,694 applications, and a total of 814 were initiated, making the present total 3,693, leaving approximately 850 to be initiated by the incoming exalted ruler. Alameda, Calif., takes second, and Bellingham, Wash., third.

Secretary Robinson's report shows that since 1889 the order has disbursed for charitable purposes a total of $4,873,288.

U. S. LEADING AT STOCKHOLM

SCORES 59 POINTS IN THE OLYMPIC GAMES

Sweden Now Occupies Second Place and Great Britain Third

Stockholm, July 9.—The United States led by five points in all the events contested at the Olympic games, including swimming, athletics, shooting and all other kinds of sport, up to this morning, according to the list compiled by the officials here. The score reads: United States, 59; Sweden, 54; Great Britain, 36; France, 17; South Africa, 11; Germany, 11; Denmark, 10; Finland, 8; Norway, 7; Italy, 5; Russia, 3; Austria, 3; Greece, 3; Holland, 1; Australia, 1.

Yesterday's decision disqualifying the United States relay team in the 400-metre race caused considerable grumbling. Some of the American officials and spectators assert that both the Swedish and British runners in the race committed the same foul but that the Americans were selected for punishment.

The officials of the British team predict that this meeting will cause a revolution in British athletic methods. British followers of the Olympic games declare that the team lacks discipline and that some of the men, including the University athletes, have broken their training, as they were unable to resist the attractions of Stockholm. Rev. De Coury Laffan, a former leading athlete in England, thinks the English should send their trainers to study American methods.

Great Britain's four speedy dash men captured the 400-metre relay race in the semi-finals of which they were beaten yesterday by the American runners, who were later disqualified. Sweden was second, and the German team was disqualified.

Finland, in the javelin throw with either hand, took all three places.

The trial heats of the 1500 metres flat race furnished nothing extremely surprising except the double victory of the Swedish athletes in the fifth heat. There were seven heats and the two leaders in each are to run in the final to-morrow, when a great race is expected which none of to-day's performers makes the Americans fear unless it is that of Jackson, of Oxford University, whose running is easy and confident. The Americans displayed better judgment in this race than in some of the preceding events. John Paul Jones, Oscar F. Hednund and Walter McClure were content to take second places rather than strain themselves by hard races for first place. Three Swedish runners, E. B. Jorn, E. Wide and J. Sander, may prove formidable opponents to-morrow.

MURDERERS ELECTROCUTED.

Ossining, N. Y., July 9.—Three convicted murderers, Guiseppe Cirolll, George Williams, a negro, and Santa Zanza, were put to death in the electric chair in quick succession at Sing Sing prison yesterday. Zanza was one of a band of six Italians convicted of the murder of Mrs. Mary Hall in a lonely farm house in Westchester county in 1911. His five companions are to be executed next month.

BANDITS TERRORIZE VILLAGE.

Champaign, Ill., July 9.—Three masked bandits, armed with revolvers and shotguns, terrorized the village of Tolono, Ill., yesterday. Two farmers, driving homeward, were held up and robbed, and the trio forced the Illinois Central agent to surrender all the cash on hand. At the same time two men waiting for a train were robbed.

THIRTY KILLED BY EXPLOSION

Conisborough, Yorkshire, Eng., July 9.—Thirty miners were killed and two injured by a coal damp explosion which occurred in the Cadeby Colliery here today.

King George, who is making a tour in the neighborhood, yesterday paid a visit to an adjoining coal pit.

TWO LOSE LIVES WHILE SWIMMING

Man Drowned in Lake After Gallant Attempt to Save Companion

Montreal, July 9.—Two men, Richard Weaver and Albert Munnery, both residents of this city, were drowned in Lake St. Louis at Dorval. They had taken two servant girls out for a row, and had afterwards gone in swimming. Weaver was seen to sink, and Munnery went to his assistance. The two men struggled awhile, and then went down. One of the girls, Alice Withun, rowed out to the men, but they had disappeared by the time she reached the spot.

Swept to Death

Highwater, Que., July 9.—After valiently saving the life of a friend Jacob Truax was so exhausted that he was swept back from the shallow water, from which he had dragged his companion, into deep water, and was drowned.

MAYOR ACCUSED OF MISUSE OF POWER

Calgary Committee Submits Report—Dismissal of Officials Recommended

Calgary, Alta., July 9.—The aldermanic probe committee, which has been investigating charges of municipal irregularities, in its report made to the city council last night charges Simon John Clarke, city commissioner, who has been the dominant figure in Calgary politics for years, with incompetency and negligence in supervision of public works contracts, and suggest his resignation. Mayor John Mitchell is charged with misuse of the powers and undue interference with other departments, and Commissioner A. Graves with lack of initiative. The report also recommends the dismissal of City Engineer Childs and Health Officer Estay.

RAILWAY APPEALS.

Fight in Ontario Over Question of Sunday Trains.

London, Ont., July 9.—The London and Lake Erie has filed formal notice at St. Thomas of an appeal against the judgment recently handed down by Chancellor Boyd, in which that company was fined for operating its cars on Sunday between London and Port Stanley. It is now to be a fight to a finish between the Lord's Day Alliance and the company, as the latter claims that under their Dominion charter they have full power to operate cars seven days a week.

MEXICAN GENERAL MOBILIZING TROOPS

Will Move Against Roving Bands of Revolutionists in Sonara

Agua Prieta, Sonora, July 9.—The determination of Mormon colonists at Colonia Morelos and Colonia Oaxac, south of here, to resist the demands of prowling rebel bands coupled with the Mormon appeals to Washington, presented a menacing situation to-day.

Most of the Mormons are American citizens. They have armed themselves and they declare they will fight to protect their property against rebel devastation. A few of the Mormons are naturalized Mexicans, and great fear has been expressed that this circumstance might lead the rebels to think they were justified in attacking the colonists if they resist demands for supplies.

General Sanjines, commander of the government forces in this region, today was at Cienegas, twenty miles northwest of Colonia Morelos, but was said to be unprepared to attack the rebels as his troops, mostly recruits, have not been mobilized for action.

PORTUGUESE TROOPS DEFEAT ROYALISTS

SOLDIERS RESTORING ORDER IN REPUBLIC

Monarchist Bands Will Be Driven Across Border Into Spain

Lisbon, July 9.—Royalists, who outnumbered Republican troops three to one, were defeated by the latter near Chaves to-day. The Republican losses included two officers. The Royalists retreated, some of them crossing the Spanish frontier, and even there continuing to fire on the government soldiers.

The Royalists had planned a ruse, but in the end it cost them dearly. While being pursued to Montalegre, in the province of Tras-Ios-Montes, they returned to Chaves and arriving, unsuspected by the Republicans, bombarded the city with their newly acquired artillery bombs. The Republican troops later discovering that the Royalists had "doubled" on their course hastened back to defend the town.

The attacking rebel force consisted of two united bands. After a battle, which lasted three hours, the Royalists retreated slowly and finally disappeared into the mountains.

The news of the victory was received with cheers in the chamber of deputies, and a law was passed at once authorizing the government to suspend the constitutional guarantees wherever necessary to extend the state of siege to the district of Cilla real.

Other bills adopted provide for the passing of summary judgment on persons accused of sedition or rebellion by military tribunals, and for pensions to relatives of soldiers "dying for the republic."

Many of the inhabitants in disturbed districts display open sympathy with the Royalists, but the army and navy remain loyal. The belief is general that unless there are defections among the military the monarchist incursions cannot be successful.

Latest dispatches from the Minho region report many isolated attacks on officials and other persons by the Royalists, but order is being restored.

The troops have assumed control in many localities, and other forces are pushing toward the frontier with the object of driving the Royalist bands across the border, where the Spanish authorities are waiting to disarm them.

Will Arrest Leaders.

Madrid, July 9.—Premier Canalejas declared in an interview yesterday that the strictest orders have been given to prevent Portuguese conspiracies from being arranged on Spanish territory. He said that all the leaders and accomplices will be arrested. Spain is considerably incommoded by the interruption of the telegraphs. It is believed now, however, that the movement is of little importance and has virtually collapsed.

Official advices received here from Orenz and Varin, state that two columns of Monarchists were camped on Sunday evening in the Portuguese mountains. A few clashes between these and the Portuguese police have occurred, but were of little moment.

It is believed here that the arms carried by the Portuguese Royalists were manufactured in Spain and were originally intended for the revolutionists in Mexico and Paraguay, but were eventually bought by the Portuguese rebels.

DWELLINGS DESTROYED.

Nine Families Rendered Homeless by Fire in Montreal.

Montreal, July 9.—Fire which raged for two hours in Cote Ste Paul, one of the outlying wards of this city yesterday afternoon rendered nine families homeless. Seven dwelling houses and a grocery store were burned out. The loss is estimated at $60,000, with little insurance. The cause of the fire is unknown. Poor water pressure is responsible for the extent of the damage.

CHILD SCALDED TO DEATH.

Leamington Ont., July 9.—Mrs. H. Manchester, of Erie street north, on Saturday night placed a tub of hot water in the room of her home with the intention of giving her young child a bath. While she was getting some cold water from an adjoining room the little one tumbled in the tub and received scalds of such a nature that it has since died.

HANGS HIMSELF.

Windsor, July 9.—The body of William Mickle, aged 40, a prosperous farmer of the township of Molden, living near Arnhertsburg, was found swinging from a rafter of his toolshed by his aged mother. Mickle had suffered a severe attack of neuralgia and this, with the hot weather, is thought to have unbalanced his mind.

CANADIAN SCORES FIRST VICTORY

QUEBEC RIFLEMAN WINS BASS PRIZE

Team Will Take Part in the Mackinnon Cup Competition on Thursday

Bisley Camp, England, July 9.—A happy augury for the success of the Canadian team was provided today by Corp. G. Mortimer, of the 8th R. R. Quebec, who carried off first prize of £10 in the Bass, a squadded competition with match rifles open to all comers, ten shots each at 1,000 and 1,100 yards. Mortimer secured a notable victory, marking 46 at the first range, and 49 at the longer range in the afternoon. Col. Gibbs, of the Gloucester Engineers, had the same score, but Mortimer had three centres, and Gibbs but two.

The weather seems settled, clear and fine, which has much improved prospects for the Canadians generally. Last year the Bass was won by Maurice Blood with Mortimer fourth, leading the Canadians.

Shooting opened yesterday when the Waldegrace, a match rifle event, was the principal item, but the meeting did not really get going until today. Canadians are taking part in a number of sweepstakes and minor individual events to-day and to-morrow, and on Thursday the team will undergo its first baptism of fire as a whole in the Mackinnon challenge cup, open to teams of twelve representatives of England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, the Channel Islands, India and the self-governing Dominions and crown colonies.

Unattached Canadians shooting at Bisley and making their headquarters with the Canadian team are as follows: Capt. W. C. Andrews, 90th, Winnipeg; Capt. W. K. Forrest, Duke of Connaught's Own Rifles, Vancouver; Staff-Sergt. Bayles, 10th Royal Grenadiers, Toronto; and Rev. A. R. Simpson, Rossland, B. C. Further names are likely to be added to this list.

INLAND REVENUE RETURNS FOR YEAR

Large Increase in Consumption of Cigarettes, Cigars and Spirits

Ottawa, July 9.—Tobacco smokers and liquor drinkers in Canada are rapidly increasing their annual consumption of cigarettes, cigars and spirits. Inland revenue figures for the last fiscal year show that the number of cigarettes entered for consumption in Canada last year was 782,000,000, an increase of nearly 200,000,000 over the preceding year. Cigars entered for consumption total nearly 253,000,000, an increase of 25,000,000. The per capita consumption of spirits is now estimated at 1.03 gallons, as compared with .859 gallons for the preceding year. Beer consumption last year is estimated at 6.859 gallons as compared with 5.434 gallons per head for 1910-11. The per capita consumption for the past year, however, was estimated on a total population of 7,423,000, as compared with the estimated population of 7,901,000 in March of last year before the census figures were available. The increased consumption per capita is therefore not quite so great as the foregoing figures would indicate.

ON WAY TO WINNIPEG.

Duke of Connaught Will Arrive in Prairie Capital This Evening.

Fort William, Ont., July 9.—There was no civic celebration here this morning when the Duke of Connaught passed through on his way to Winnipeg, owing to the early hour and brief stay. The special train with George Bury's private car Manitoba attached, departed at 8.45 in charge of Conductor Wm. Fogg of Winnipeg, this making the eighth royal train he has taken care of since entering the employ of the C. P. R. Stops will be made at Ignace and Kenora, the divisional points, and also at Wabigoon for luncheon, and at Selkirk for dinner, arriving in Winnipeg at 8.30 o'clock. Those accompanying the Governor-General are his daughter, Princess Patricia; Miss Adams, lady-in-waiting; Lieut.-Col. Lowther, Capt. Buller and Capt. Long.

HEAT CLAIMS MANY VICTIMS

DEATHS REPORTED IN EASTERN CITIES

Eleven Dead in Philadelphia—Hundreds Sleep in Parks in Montreal

New York, July 9.—Hot weather has struck New York. The mercury jumped yesterday to 93 degrees, and some street thermometers recorded 99. The humidity was excessive and scores of prostrations were reported. Four deaths were ascribed to the heat. Weather bureau official figures indicate that it was the warmest July 8 the country has known since 1876.

Deaths at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, July 9.—Eleven deaths were reported yesterday as being due to excessive heat. Prostrations were numerous. The maximum temperature was 95.

Over Ninety Degrees.

Boston, Mass., July 9.—Three deaths and twenty-five prostrations due to heat were reported yesterday in greater Boston. For the sixth consecutive day the thermometer registered over 90 degrees.

In Montreal.

Montreal, July 9.—Relief from the terrible heat wave under which Montreal has been suffering for the past five days was promised for a few short hours last evening. Then the fresh breezes slowly died down, and the storm clouds which had appeared suddenly passed over the city without releasing a drop of moisture.

The barometer, which had dropped steadily all day, began to climb up again. At midnight the temperature at McGill observatory in the mountains stood at 75. Yesterday the thermometer at McGill went over the 90 mark again, the figure being 91 and a fraction. In the business district, however, the temperature was far higher, reaching 95 at noon. The temperature is but slightly less than that recorded in last year's record week, and far exceeds all records for the ten years previous. Many prostrations are reported, and the numerous drowning accidents are indirectly the result of the great heat.

Death has exacted a heavy toll among the little children since the heat wave first struck Montreal. Of the 137 deaths recorded in the city since the torpid spell began on Dominion Day, 92 have been those of children under five years.

Montreal's water supply is running low. Consumption has gone up at the rate of a million gallons a day, and the limit is almost reached. Street sprinkling has been practically abandoned, and citizens are cautioned against waste.

The parks are crowded, and hundreds are abandoning their homes at dusk to sleep in the open spaces.

CROPS DAMAGED.

Halbrite, Sask., July 9.—A heavy wind swept over the district west and southwest of Halbrite yesterday afternoon. The damage to the crops was heavy.

POLICE CHIEFS MEET AT TORONTO

Two Hundred Cities in Canada and United States Represented at Convention

Toronto, July 9.—The annual convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police met in this city to-day and was called to order by Major Richard Sylvester, of Washington, the president of the organization. The attendance includes the heads of the police departments of more than 200 metropolitan cities, of Canada and the United States. The association will be in session five days. Among the important matters to be brought forward is the proposed establishment of an international bureau of police which will act as a clearing house for the police departments throughout the United States and Canada, and co-operate with the department in other countries.

GUARDING AGAINST PLAGUE.

New York, July 9.—The steamer Carolina, which arrived last night from San Juan, Porto Rico, where the outbreak of the bubonic plague has caused alarm, brought 175 passengers, many of them Americans who desired to get away from the island. The passengers were subjected to unusually careful examination by the health officers, who found no suspicious illness, but the steamer was not allowed to dock. She will be obliged to disembark her passengers by means of transfer boats. The ship's cargo will be lightered, and her hold thoroughly fumigated before she is allowed to dock.

The continuous flow of power, the smooth, silent operation of the valves, pistons, and timing gears, coupled with the large face, silent drive gears, make this Chalmers car the ideal motor for the discriminating buyer. The deep, rich, luxurious upholstering permit comfortable riding over all kinds of roads. The demountable tires and rims, with the power tire pump, omit the necessity of changing and pumping up tires on the road.

PROPOSES TO LEASE MANITOBA ELEVATORS

Grain Growers Company Has Completed Arrangements With Government

Calgary, Alta., July 9.—Failing to make a success in the operation of its 172 provincial grain elevators, the government of Manitoba is prepared to lease them to the Grain Growers' Company, which will hold its annual meeting on July 16 next at Winnipeg.

Negotiations have already been practically completed between the directors of the company and the Manitoba provincial government for the leasing of the elevators at an annual rental of $66,000. The directors will lay the proposition before the annual meeting for confirmation of their action.

With this matter, the meeting also will pass upon negotiations continued by the directors for the leasing by the C. P. R. of its immense terminal elevator on the lake front at Fort William. This elevator has a capacity of two and one-half million bushels of grain.

The 172 elevators owned by the Manitoba government in the province have a capacity of 30,000 bushels each, or an aggregate capacity of five million bushels.

When the Grain Growers' Company comes into control of these elevators it will mean an immense advantage to all the grain growers of the prairie province.

E. J. Fream, secretary of the United Farmers of Alberta, and a director of the Grain Growers' Company, has gone to Winnipeg to participate in the deliberations of the annual meeting. The Grain Growers' Company is co-operative in organization and is representative of the farmers' organization, the United Farmers of Alberta, the Grain Growers' Association of Saskatchewan and the Grain Growers' Association of Manitoba.

EDMONTON'S ASSESSMENT.

Edmonton, Sask., July 9.—Edmonton's assessment this year will be more than double that of last year. The total net assessment last year amounted to $46,000,000, while it is expected the figures will reach in the vicinity of $105,000,000 for 1911.

This includes only the north side, and on the south side the assessment will be about $25,000,000.

WAR ON TUBERCULOSIS.

Toronto, July 9.—When the regulations governing the notification of cases of tuberculosis are put into force the provincial board of health will place itself in the position of adviser to each individual victim of the white plague.

Physicians must promptly notify the medical officer of health in their respective municipalities of each case of tuberculosis attended. The local officer reports of the provincial board, and Dr. C. J. S. McCullough, chief officer of health, is now arranging to have useful information regarding the treatment of disease forwarded to each patient reported to be afflicted.

FAILED TO OBEY ORDER.

Ottawa, July 9.—Three militia officers whose names have not been made public have found it necessary to resign their commands because they failed to see that the order of Colonel Hughes relative to liquor in camps was not observed. Colonel Hughes has laid it down that no liquor will be served in military camps. He said yesterday that three officers had neglected his order and their resignations had been received. He added that other resignations were expected.

"It is the business of a commanding officer to see that there is no liquor in the camps. I know the militia business," he continued, "and I know the evils in connection with canteens. Liquor in the camps has got to be stopped or I will know the reason why. Most officers realize this now."

MINISTERS ARE WARMLY WELCOMED

London Star on Visit of Premier Borden and Colleagues to London

London, July 9.—The attitude of the Liberal press towards the visit of the Canadian cabinet ministers is throughout one of unaffected welcome. The Star, most radical of London evening papers, says "Men of all parties are one in the warmth of their greeting to their kinsman. The fact that Mr. Borden has taken Sir Wilfrid Laurier's place makes no difference to us Liberals. He is a Canadian, and that is enough for us. We gladly recognize that there is something far higher than politics, namely our common heritage and hope of the British race. It is to preserve and develop that heritage that Premier Borden has crossed the Atlantic. Whatever Canada may do to help us maintain that command of the seas, which is the supreme necessity of our existence, we shall accept not merely with gratitude, but brotherly comradeship. We are one race, we stand together."

Premier Borden returned from a week-end visit to Donald McMaster at Ascot. Today the premier and his colleagues will witness the great review of the fleet at Spithead, after which the Canadian ministers, with the exception of the premier, will be entertained by Winston Churchill aboard the Admiralty yacht Enchantress. Mr. Borden will return to London to fulfil a dinner engagement with Mr. Harcourt, the colonial secretary.

PREPARING TO RESIST REBELS

Mormon Colonists in Mexico Mobilizing to Defend Their Property

Agua Prieta, Mex., July 9.—Americans of the Mormon colonies at Colonia Morelos and Colonia Oaxaca, 75 miles southwest of here, are mobilizing to defend their property against the rebels. The rebels' advance guard from Casas Grandes is approaching Colonia Morelos.

Trouble Expected.

El Paso, Tex., July 9.—The fighting strength of the Mormon colony in Mexico is estimated by their agents here at 750, armed and supplied with ammunition. Trouble is expected as the rebels have once before in the present revolution endeavored to take possession of the ammunition and rifles held by the Mormon colonists.

Federals Enter Chihuahua.

At General Headquarters, Chihuahua, Mex., July 9.—Triumphantly General Victoriano Huerta, commander-in-chief of the government forces in Northern Mexico, rode into the city of Chihuahua, just four months under rebel control. The entry of Huerta's army reduced the high nervous tension under which foreign residents had lived ever since rebel reverses in this section began.

The coming of Huerta means the restoration of railroad communication with Torreon, though it simultaneously cuts off the city on the north from Juarez and the American border. This city has been mulcted of supplies and business had long been at a standstill. Many mines will be reopened.

Orozco Sullen.

At General Orozco's Headquarters, Sauz, Mexico, July 9.—Still sullen and morose, but none the less determined to laugh in defiance of the constituted government, General Orozco has given final orders for the inauguration of the guerilla warfare which he purposes to wage "until Madero is forced to resign."

The general makes no effort to conceal his chagrin at the rebel defeat at Bachimba. Contrary to advice of his most competent officers, he ordered the fight, believing there was a chance to win. Failure was expected by nine-tenths of his officers, because ammunition was short.

Orozco admitted that he had finished with organized warfare and from now on would fight after the manner of guerillas.

Sonora will be the first state to feel the effect of the new campaign, but it is the ambition of Orozco to extend the field of operations soon to states near Mexico City.

PORTLAND EXTENDS WELCOME TO ELKS

The Oregon City Has Made Elaborate Preparations to Entertain Visitors

Portland, Ore., July 9.—With decorations never before approached in Portland, and equalled, it is stated, by no other Elks convention city, and with an array of entertainment both for day and night that would consume twice the allotted time of any one person, Portland threw open her gates yesterday to the B. P. O. E.

The event which attracts the Elks to Portland is the forty-eighth grand lodge session of the order and the twenty-sixth annual reunion of the brotherhood, and tens of thousands of the antlered herd have poured into this city to participate in the proceedings of the grand lodge or in the festivities which the city has provided.

In honor of the occasion practically every building in the business district of the city has been covered with bunting, hundreds of store fronts are artistically decorated appropriate to the occasion, while the streets are a fluttering mass of purple and white buntings, intermingled with the national colors. Yesterday, for the major part, was given over to festivities, which included numerous band concerts and the official receptions.

The contest for convention city is becoming warm. In the field are Rochester, N. Y., and Cincinnati, Ohio, for the 1913 convention. Atlanta is laying the foundation for a boom next year to secure the 1914 convention, while San Francisco and Seattle each expect to inaugurate a campaign for the 1915 convention. Strange as it seemed, the latter fight appeared to attract the most discussion.

FOUND MURDERED.

Rochester, N. Y., July 9.—Fred Count Guiseppe Albaneze, suspected by the police of New York and Rochester of black hand operations, was murdered here some time during Sunday night. Three knife wounds in the head caused death, one severing the juglar vein.

ALASKAN EARTHQUAKES.

Cordova, Alaska, July 9.—The earthquake shocks of Saturday night and Sunday were felt all over Alaska. It is feared Mount Katmai is again in eruption.

Wireless connection with Kodiak Island is broken.

The United States naval wireless station has been unable to communicate with Karluk, Bristol Bay and other westward stations since the earthquake, leading to the fear that further volcanic eruptions may be taking place to the westward.

Katmai is known to be still smoking and throwing off ashes. The Bristol Bay district received another light covering of ash last week, and two days of southwest winds brought a slight sprinkling to this section.

The earthquake report seemed not to be so much of a swinging as of a quivering nature.

From reports received here it is believed Fairbanks is the centre of the disturbance. Four distinct shocks were recorded in the city of Fairbanks, the one at 10 and 10.06 on Saturday night, and one of the shocks Sunday being the severest ever felt in that city.

At Kennecott, in the Copper River country, two hundred miles from here, shocks were heavy.

Miles and Childs glaciers on Sunday and Monday discharged more ice than ever before. During their visit to the glaciers Sunday tourists from the steamer Mariposa were compelled to stay at the timber line in order not to be caught by the great waves caused by huge blocks of ice constantly falling into the Copper river.

No damage was done in this city, although the quake was severe.

COTTAGE WRECKED BY LIGHTNING

Woman and Three Children Have Remarkable Escape From Death

Windsor, July 9.—Mrs. Albert Welch and three children, of Windsor, had a remarkable escape from death when lightning struck their summer home at Linden Beach near here. Mrs. Welch was hurled from bed and landed upright on her feet in the middle of the room. Her face was singed and a gold tooth was partially melted. Her daughter and son escaped unhurt, but another son was severely stunned. One end of the cottage was blown out and hurled over a hundred feet away.

SENTENCE PASSED ON CAMORRISTS

Convicted After Trial Lasting Two Years—Prisoner Attempts Suicide

Viterbo, Italy, July 9.—The verdict in the Camorra trial was handed down yesterday. Five of the accused were unanimously declared guilty of the murder of Gennaro Cuoccolo and his wife. The remainder were found guilty of belonging to a criminal association.

When it was known that the Camorra trial, which has been going on for two years, would come to a conclusion yesterday, great excitement prevailed. Reinforcements of troops and mounted police arrived before the opening of court to assist in maintaining order. A body of 300 police has been especially entrusted with the surveillance of the court and its precincts.

Several relations of the accused, comprising wives, sisters and mothers, arrived yesterday morning, bringing an offering of wax candles for the Madonna, while others brought gifts for St. Rosa, the patron of Viterbo. Many of them took up their positions in the churches facing the court house, where they remained kneeling, beating their breasts and imploring mercy for their beloved ones.

When the presiding judge resumed his summing up of the evidence, all the accused maintained absolutely calm demeanor. Only Ciro Vitozzi, the priest, known as the "guardian angel of the Camorra," displayed any shame at being forced to enter the iron cage with the other prisoners. He muttered prayers all the time, saying: "I am in the hands of God and of the jurors, whom I pray the Almighty to illuminate."

The verdict declares Corrado Sortino guilty of both murders; Nicolo Morra, Antonio Cerrato and Mariano Di Gennaro guilty of the murder of Cuocolo and Guiseppi Salvi guilty of the murder of Cuocolo's wife. Enrico Elfano, the alleged leader of the Cammorrists; Giovinni Rapi, Di Marinas and the others are convicted of being instigators of the crime and members of a criminal organization.

The president of the court sentenced the condemned men. Sortino, Corrado Salvi, Morra, Di Gennaro, Alfano, Rapi and Di Marinas were sentenced to 30 years' imprisonment and to ten years' police surveillance each; Di Mattio to ten years' and six months' imprisonment and ten years' surveillance; Ascrittore to ten years' imprisonment and ten years' surveillance; Vitozzi, the priest, seven years' imprisonment and two years' surveillance; the others to five years' imprisonment and five years' surveillance.

When the accused were placed in the iron cage to hear the verdict, Di Marinas suddenly drew forth a piece of glass and cut his throat. The other prisoners screamed and shouted invectives and imprecations.

Rapi shouted: "This innocent blood is crying for revenge." Alfano raged around and called out about his brother who he cried was a victim of injustice and a man who had suffered the martyrdom of innocence.

Vitozzi knelt, weeping and praying. All the prisoners acted like maniacs and the carabineers had difficulty in forcing their way into the cage to maintain order and carry out the wounded Di Marinas.

The pronouncement of the sentence was received with uproars of protests.

JUROR TELLS OF OFFER OF BRIBE

Declares Franklin Told Him Clarence Darrow Had Provided $20,000

Los Angeles, Cal., July 9.—Robert F. Bain, the last witness planned to testify for the prosecution, took the stand in the trial of Clarence S. Darrow for alleged jury-bribery yesterday. Bain was the first juror accepted in the trial of James B. McNamara for dynamiting the Los Angeles Times building.

After a few preliminary questions Bain told of the conversation with his wife, at which she informed him of the visit of Bert H. Franklin and of the latter's offer of a bribe of $4,000 to influence Bain's vote as a juror in the McNamara trial.

The direct offer of a bribe was made to him a few days later, said Bain. Franklin called at his home in the evening and offered him $400 as the first instalment, said the witness, telling him that the balance or $3,600 would be paid after the trial.

Franklin justified his course in bribing jurors, according to the witness, by explaining that the prosecution had resorted to the same methods to secure a conviction of McNamara.

"Franklin told me," said Bain, "that Darrow had furnished him with $20,000 to use for that purpose."

A strong point for the defence was brought out by Attorney Appel, who cross-examined Bain, when the latter said that he had told Franklin when accepting the money that he would hold for conviction if the evidence was sufficient.

FOUR KILLED IN FIGHT.

Lake Charles, La., July 9.—Four men were killed and four seriously wounded in a pitched battle between union and non-union timber workers and guards employed by a lumber mill at Grabrow, La., a mill town 50 miles north of here.

A party of 200 union men, headed by A. L. Emerson, president of the Brotherhood of Timber Workers, went to Grabow, where a strike is in progress, to hold a meeting. The proprietor of the mill and his non-union employees, it is said, met them and the fight resulted.

SCORE ARRESTED.

Deputy Sheriffs Make Raid During Cockfight Near San Francisco.

San Francisco, Cal., July 8.—Seventeen deputy sheriffs, commanded by an official of the San Francisco Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, swooped down upon a quiet cockfight across the city line in San Mateo county on Sunday and took into custody twenty members of the exclusive "good fellows" club, interrupting a hair-raising bout between two long spurred roosters. As the officers burst into the enclosure with drawn revolvers, a stampede was attempted, but a volley of six shots calmed their haste and they agreed to go circumspectly to jail.

Six dead birds strewed the canvas cockpit, and twenty-eight live birds were found caged, with the names of their owners inscribed. The men, after the smoke had blown away, drove to the county seat in their automobiles, accompanied by the deputies, deposited $500 bail, which it is believed will be pure profit to the county, and drove cheerfully away.

The cockpit is solidly built and well appointed structure, and many of the birds had been shipped in from points some distance away.

FORTUNE FOR SOCIALIST.

His comrades think Fisher will divide the fortune in accordance with his beliefs, but Fisher is silent on the subject.

MR. BORDEN'S "OPEN MIND."

Premier Borden, we are told, is approaching the British Admiralty on the naval question "with an open mind." Unquestionably. Mr. Borden, according to our observation (which is admittedly somewhat prejudiced), is addicted to the "open mind" on almost every matter of public importance, and the naval question is so delicate a subject that for him to have a "closed mind" upon it would be expecting altogether too much. Therefore the Premier's mind is open. Perhaps he is depending upon the Admiralty to close it. In the meantime his devoted supporters on this side of the water are throwing out all kinds of suggestions. The Montreal Star wants him to contribute handsomely to the support of the British navy, without tying any strings to the contribution in the matter of Imperial naval distribution. The Toronto News, an organ of British high imperialism as well as of bigoted Canadian Toryism, says we must supply two Dreadnoughts at least annually to the British fleet. This must not be accompanied by any conditions either. Hon. George E. Foster, who is on the other side just now sounding the high imperial note, a few months ago maintained that in considering the question of a navy we must have something that will take root in the soil of Canada and grow with the growth of the country in wealth and population. The Victoria Colonist insists that the logical thing to do is accept the first suggestion of the Admiralty, build our own navy and maintain it exclusively on the Pacific as an intimation to Japan that "what we have we can hold." On the other hand, there are the Nationalists in Mr. Borden's cabinet to be taken into consideration. In the late election campaign Messrs. Monk, Pelletier and Nantel were opposed to any Canadian navy upon the ground that it would be but a sop to imperialism and would lead to the disembowelment, etc., of French-Canadians in the embroilments which would be sure to ensue as a consequence of our participation in wars which were none of our concern.

On the whole, it is no wonder that Mr. Borden preserves "an open mind" on the naval question. In the meantime, by all means let him consult the Admiralty. And, pending the important consultation, it is satisfactory to note that the Premier is displaying better judgment than his colleague the Minister of Trade and Commerce and refraining from taking part in party politics in Great Britain with the object of attempting to convince the British electors that they can add to their already unexampled prosperity by taxing themselves on the things they must eat to live, a policy that is considerably discredited in this part of the world.

BATTLE FOR FISCAL FREEDOM.

The provincial elections in Saskatchewan will take place on Thursday next. The situation is tersely described in a press dispatch as a battle for federal control of the West. Hon. "Bob" Rogers, Minister of the Interior, is the marshal of the federal forces. Little is heard or said of F. G. Haultain, leader of the opposition against Hon. Walter Scott, the Premier of the province. Mr. Rogers has thrown out hints as to the desire of the Borden government to relieve the farmers to the utmost of its power of the excessive burden of tariff taxation and to provide them with profitable markets. Nothing is now heard of the danger to British connection from trade with the United States. The hard-headed, practical-minded agriculturists of the West, it is felt, are not to be stampeded by such silly cries. That is the best possible tribute to their common sense. The political situation on the prairies is therefore quite interesting. It is all the more interesting because of the fact that the demand for tariff relief, from the burden that is at the root of the evil the trusts and monopolies are inflicting, is continent-wide. Both the political parties, or rather all the political parties, in the United States, have been forced to concede that protection as it is practised on this continent enables individuals to prey upon the community at large, and to pledge themselves to reforms. If the Canadian West, which in the next Parliament will have an increased representation of at least twenty members, indicates on Thursday that it has not been beguiled by the specious promises of Hon. "Bob" Rogers, the Borden government will unquestionably take that as a sign to draw in its protectionist horns. Even now one hears little of the demands of the government's special privilege supporters that "we must have protection as high as Haman's gallows."

THE COLONEL COMES BACK.

The Colonel of the Big Stick was "beaten to a fraazle" in the Chicago convention, but the steam roller did not flatten him out to the point of political extinction. No, sir. There is life in Colonel Roosevelt yet. His Big Stick is still a terror to the regulars of the political army. The Colonel announces that he will hold a convention of his own which he can control and mould to his own strong will. He has already issued a proclamation abounding in platitudes about the Big Interests and the things he will do to them, given the opportunity—which of course he will take. By the way, the Colonel had more than one opportunity to work his iron will on these enemies to freedom in the great American republic, and if he did things to them his action did not impair their progress to any serious extent. The trusts and the monopolies and the combines flourished like a green bay tree during his regime. They increased in power, in wealth and in influence. Still the Colonel undoubtedly did frown and thunder forth ominous sounds. Whether that was part of the stage play incidental to the show we do not know. The Colonel may have been in earnest and he may have been thwarted by opposition in Congress, which appears to be about as responsive to public opinion as a donkey to the strains of sweetest music. In any case, and without discussing the sincerity of the Colonel as a reformer, the Republican regulars are alarmed and would fain woo him into the fold. They fear the candidate of Woodrow Wilson, who is known to be an earnest advocative of progressive measures, progressiveness in this instance meaning a determined effort to wipe high protection from the slate. At the present time it looks as though the regulars were prepared to go down on their knees and implore the wielder of the Big Stick to be as merciful as he is strong, to remember that disunion and strife may mean the triumph of the Democratic party, and, worse than all, deprivation of the sweets of office. That is how the situation looks to us in the light of what is occurring. But we very much mistake the Colonel if he will consent to withdraw and allow a candidate acceptable to himself and the Republican party at large to take up the running against Woodrow Wilson. Colonel Roosevelt some time ago made up his mind that the people of the United States needed him more than anybody else—and of course he is their humble servant to command.

The heat is beginning to get in its annual work in the East. Even Canadian cities are not exempt from the scourge, although New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and the great centres of the West are the greatest sufferers. The torrid waves deal most hardly with the very young and old.

* * *

In these days of mechanically driven vehicles eternal vigilance is the price of life. Motor cars are killing people in the city of New York at the rate of one death per diem. It is satisfactory to note that in this part of the world drivers of cars are beginning to appreciate the necessity of greater care for their own sakes as well as for the welfare of others.

* * *

The affairs of a city, however prosperous, must be conducted in a business-like way in order to assure permanence in prosperity. Engineer Rust is attacking the problems of Victoria, which appear to be serious enough, in a thoroughly practical manner. We trust he will obtain the hearty support of the City Council in his course. All ratepayers, whether of the working class or any other class, are interested in municipal thoroughness.

* * *

There is a Labor government in power in the Commonwealth of Australia, as readers of the Times doubtless know. The administration is progressive, as all governments claim to be in these growing times. Labor as a rule is opposed to holding out inducements to immigrants, under the impression that too many people lead to undue competition in the labor market. Yet the Labor government of Australia is not opposed to growth in population. It prefers growth in the natural way, however, and purposes encouraging it. Hence the government has made part of its legislative programme a grant of $25 as maternity allowance on the registration of every birth. The scheme has been received with enthusiasm by the working classes throughout the Commonwealth, and it is believed that the measure will become a law, although the Liberals will support it only as it shall pertain to needy cases. A member of the opposition is said to be drafting a bill which will place a tax upon childless families, so that the public funds shall not be drawn on in payment for the maternity grant. Both these projects of law have been introduced in France, but without a sufficient backing to promulgate them.

* * *

The case of the tax on fuel oil furnishes a concrete and illuminative example of the workings of the tariff, sometimes called the National Policy. The tax amounts to more than the first cost of the oil. The C. P. R. is a big corporation, and its influence corresponds to its size. There is little doubt that the matter will be adjusted to the satisfaction of the company. The government can be depended upon to see to that. But the tariff tax upon almost everything consumed by the general public is quite as great an imposition and the senselessness of it would be quite as apparent if the distribution were not so widespread. One of these days the eyes of the general consumers will be opened to the iniquity of customs taxation in the guise of "protection." Then there will be an irresistible demand for freedom which will not be quelled by the canting cry of patriotism.

DOG AT THE OLD CHURCH DOOR.

So faithful, single-hearted, loving, true,
Free from all malice, selfishness and sin,
Forgiving injury and wrong;—are you,
Old Friend, to be no welcome guest within?

Well!—we'll leave you there, and humbly bow
Our heads in self-abasing reverence:
We call God's works great, little,—high and low,—
Vaguely defining soul and thought and sense.

Yet who can read the all-creating Mind,
Or know the miracles behind the veil?
The wisest and the holiest fail to find
How Will and Purpose can with God prevail.

"Dumb animal," they say,—and yet that eye
Speaks to my heart, and tells in accent clear
How Silence is the Voice that wistfully
Alone can breathe of Spirit-Power near.

Wait at the door!—the God that made thee sees,—
He loveth all. He spies out all our ways,
He hears each message on the passing breeze
Where every creature lives its life of Praise.

"The whole creation travalleth in pain,"—
Who knows what power in His Mercy lies?
Some day we shall our Paradise regain
And Life's great scheme unfold its mysteries.

Lie there and wait,—such Love will guide me true,
Such Faith will aid my vision more and more
To find the God Himself within,—and you
Shall be my Angel at the old church door.

LOST OPPORTUNITY.

Sir Thomas Lipton tells a humorous story of a Scotsman who went to a race meeting for the first time in his life. The old man's friends persuaded him to risk sixpence on a horse—a forty to one chance. With much trepidation, the Scotsman handed out the sixpence, and, strange to relate, the horse won. When the bookmaker handed out a sovereign and sixpence to Sandy, the latter could not believe his own eyes.

"Do you mean to tell me I get all this for my sixpence?" he asked.

"You do," replied the bookmaker.

"Ma conscience!" exclaimed Sandy. "Tell me, mon, how long has this thing been going on?"

Though Sandy had "greenhorn luck" and "picked the winner" on his first venture, he might not do so again in 99 times out of 100, as those who "follow the ponies" could tell him. The man who wants to place his "saxpences" on a "sure thing" should investigate the Canadian Government annuity system. Information in regard to which may be obtained at any post office, or on application to the superintendent of annuities, Ottawa. Your letter is carried free of postage.

This Is the First Reduction on These Very Desirable and Much Wanted Suits, and, as the Quantity Is Limited, We Expect That Wednesday Will See Them All Sold.

THIS is a special offer for Wednesday only. Some of the garments are being shown in the View street windows and tell their own story in a far better manner than is possible through a printed advertisement. There is nothing that we can say here that will flatter the garments. They are just the strictly plain and stylish garments that you would expect your tailor to turn over to you. They come in colors fawns, greys, navy blues, etc., are made of serges and homespuns of excellent quality, and are lined with guaranteed Skinner satin. Not a single garment is worth less than $35 and many are garments that we have sold regularly at $40.

All One Price On Wednesday $25.00

Handsome Dresses $6.75

WORTH NEARLY DOUBLE THE PRICE.

Muslins, Marquisettes, Fancy Voiles, and Pongees are the materials that are here to choose from, and they are trimmed in a great variety of styles. All are the latest models that have proved to be popular, and with the bulk of the summer still ahead of us, a small price like this should prove quite a temptation.

See the window display on View street and you'll be more than satisfied that the quality and style of the garments are far better than you could reasonably expect at the price.

House Dresses

THAT WERE NEVER MADE TO SELL AT $2.90 WILL GO AT THAT PRICE TO-DAY.

They come in sizes for small and medium sized women and are the most dainty models that we have offered this season at a price as low as $2.90. They are made of striped prints in a variety of colors, and are trimmed with deep collars and turnback cuffs of pique. The collars and cuffs are neatly trimmed with lace or have scalloped edges finished with embroidery. There is only a few dozen left and we expect them to move out rapidly. Your choice to-day at $2.90.

Serviceable Linen Motor Coats at $6.90

THESE are made of a strong linen and come in natural color only. They are finished with a broad belt across the back, have military collars and the collars, cuffs, pockets and the front of the coats are neatly piped with leatherette in tan color. The buttons have a leatherette centre and give the garments a novel and smart appearance. Although the price is low, the garments are a dependable quality, and will please most women who are looking for a smart and serviceable garment. No better value to be had at a similar price is a statement that we are safe in making.

Two New Lines in Women's Waists

ONE IS A SMART PONGEE SHIRT WAIST AT $2.90 AND THE OTHER IS A SMART OUTING WAIST IN SILK AT $3.75.

EVEN the most inexperienced woman will readily recognize the value of these garments. They are new goods that are being shown in the window for the first time to-day, and should bring a crowd of interested women to the store early on Wednesday morning.

THE PONGEE WAISTS are a plain tailored shirt, made of an excellent quality of pongee and are finished with a turndown link collar, long sleeves with turnback cuffs and a patch pocket. All sizes are to be had and they are a remarkable bargain at $2.90

THE SILK OUTING WAISTS are made of a good quality silk and come in a variety of colored stripes of different widths on a white ground. Blues, greens, mauve, tan, and black are some of the colors, and there is both the plain tailored style with turndown collar, and the Quaker style to choose from. We think that they are a really fine value, but we prefer that you see them and form your own opinion. Your choice at $3.75

Dainty French Underwear

GREATLY REDUCED IN PRICE FOR THE JULY SALE.

HANDSOMELY made from excellent materials and trimmed in a manner that will do justice to the French for their refined taste in the design of women's garments. That's the style of garment that we are offering to you to-day and the prices are as low, in fact lower, than you could reasonably expect even at a July sale. Quality garments at such prices won't last long, so don't wait till to-morrow or you may be disappointed.

GOWNS made of a fine French mull, in the kimono style. They are beautifully trimmed with torchon lace insertion and ribbons and are a value that you'll rarely find marked as low as $7.45

GOWNS made of extra fine nainsook, with yokes and sleeves made of Valenciennes lace insertion. Many other styles are here to choose from, and all are beautifully finished with lace and silk ribbons. Per garment $5.65

CORSET COVERS with tucked back and front. Have a deep yoke of real Torchon lace, and are handsomely finished. For such an excellent garment, this price is really moderate. Price $7.50

The July Sale Brings Remarkable Values in Men's Suits

SEE THE SHOWING OF $12.50 AND $15.00 VALUES THAT ARE MARKED DOWN TO $9.75?

They come in a variety of colors and shades, some in a plain mixture and others in neat striped effects. Some have cuff bottomed pants and others are the regular style.

That the young man, or the business man, who is looking for a smart and inexpensive suit will find just the style he likes best here, is an absolute certainty, and there isn't a garment in the lot that cannot measure up to the standard of workmanship, style, and quality of material that is usually found in most garments that are sold regularly at $15 or more. See the display in the View street windows, and if you fail to find the style you like best, enquire for it in the department. You'll be sure of finding it there.

Only $9.75 for a suit for which you would readily pay $15.00.

INTERESTING PRESENTATION.

Secretary of Typographical Union No. 201 Honored by His Associates After 14 Years' Service.

An interesting presentation took place after the close of the regular proceedings of the Victoria Typographical Union No. 201, on Sunday afternoon. President S. V. Bowers presented to George M. Watt, who recently resigned the secretaryship of the union, a pair of gold cuff links with diamond setting.

In an eloquent little address the president alluded feelingly to the fourteen years of hard work that their secretary had rendered to them and hoped that he would take with him into his new field of labor the small token of their appreciation of the work that he had done amongst them, and of their good wishes for his future happiness and success.

In replying Mr. Watt thanked the president and members for their gift, which he said would always remind him of the years in which he had been so intimately identified with their interests. He said that it would always be his earnest endeavor to try and emulate those who had gone forth from the ranks of 201, and while severing his connection officially with the union he would always continue to take an interest in all matters connected with it, and would continue to hold an active card and be more or less identified with them.

MILITIA COMPLIMENTED.

D. O. C. Says Manoeuvres Were Undoubted Success and Predicts New System of Training.

A very warm compliment was paid the various units of the militia engaged in the mobilization manoeuvres held on Vancouver Island by Colonel Wadmore, the D. O. C. of Military District No. 11. In a district order he says: "The D. O. C. wishes to convey to the commanders of the forces and to all officers, non-commissioned officers and men under arms for the recent field manoeuvres lasting from 28th June to 1st July inclusive, his very high appreciation of the zeal and intelligence shown by all ranks.

"The value of the operations, as far as training for war goes, depended largely upon the maintenance of discipline and the prompt performance of duty, under the trying circumstances, bad weather, privations and discomfort which are inseparable from a march and manoeuvres under the nearest approach to service conditions, and only the endurance and cheerful behavior of all ranks make possible the success of such an operation.

These peace manoeuvres, with bivouac, etc., just carried out in M. D. No. 11 are the first that have ever been held in Canada for the active militia.

"They were an undoubted success and the D. O. C. feels confident, that following them, a new system of training, of greater interest to all, will be inaugurated throughout the Dominion."

Narveson was just as wild at Spokane yesterday as Wilson was at Seattle on Sunday, and the Indians scored the same number of runs off him as the Giants did off "Kiddo," but Narvey was unlucky in that the Bees weren't scoring many runs off Kraft, and, unlike Wilson, he lost. The score was three to two. Errors by Rawlings and Yohe came at bad times and helped the home team's score along. Johnson, Weed and Cooney pulled off circus stunts. The score:

CENTURY TASK OF THE 12TH LANCERS

The story comes from Potchefstroom, South Africa, where the 12th Royal Lancers are now quartered, that the famous cavalry regiment is this year to be delivered of the burden of a hundred years' punishment inflicted on the corps a century ago by the Iron Duke.

In the year 1812, says the report, the Lancers broke into a monastery during the war in Spain, and there conducted themselves very badly. When the Duke of Wellington heard of this he paraded the regiment and sentenced it to a penalty which was to last a hundred years. Every night at 10 o'clock, ran the order, the band must parade and play five hymns as a punishment—the Spanish National Anthem, the Russian National Anthem, the Vesper Hymn, the Prince of Wales Hymn and the English National Anthem. And, moreover, every man of the regiment was to stand at attention while the hymns were being played.

This hardly sounds like the Iron Duke, and, as a matter of fact, the pretty legend is only a legend. And an eminent military officer who had occasion years ago to investigate the story knows exactly on what the hymn-playing of the 12th Lancers is based.

"The custom is more than a century old," he says, "and is not penal. These are the facts: In 1793 a part of the 12th Light Dragoons, as the regiment was then styled, when Toulon was abandoned, proceeded to Corsica, and were present at the taking of Bastia on May 22, 1794. The remainder of the regiment sailed to Italy, and landed at Civita Vecchia. Here the conduct of both officers and men attracted the notice of the Pope, Pius VI., who, on May 30, 1794, addressed a most complimentary letter to them through Cardinal de Nelada, his secretary of state.

Honored By the Pope.

"He presented a gold medal to each of the officers (twelve in number). Three of the officers proceeded to Rome, where they were presented to the Pope, who received them most graciously, and taking the helmet of one officer (Capt. Browne) blessed it and replaced it on his head. He also presented to them three melodies: (1) Sicilian Vespers, (2) the hymn now used as the Russian National Anthem, and (3) a melody the name of which has not been handed down, for the band to play.

"The Peninsular war was in no way connected with the matter. Had misconduct taken place in a 'monastery' (convent, one concludes), it must have been, if detected, duly reported. A court-martial must have followed, and its sentence would be recorded, as the sentences of all other courts-martial are, in print.

"But assuming that such a thing did take place, and that a court-martial was somehow avoided—which it could not have been—the Duke of Wellington could not legally have passed any such sentence, and had he done so would have been liable himself. Such a sentence would never have been obeyed, and rightly.

"The story of the men having to turn out of bed long after 'lights out' in order to stand to attention while the hymns are being played is equally unsupported. Tradition dies hard, however, and the story of the Iron Duke's sentence of one hundred years' of hymn-playing has been adopted into several other cavalry regiments."—From the London Standard.

CALLS TURN ON OLYMPIC EVENTS

BEASLEY WRITES ABOUT OUR ATHLETES' CHANCES

Hal is Youngest Member of Team Representing Dominion—Has Competed Twice

In a letter to the sporting editor of the Times, Hal Beasley, one of two Victoria athletes competing in the Olympic games at Stockholm, gives an interesting account of the methods of training on board ship and states his views of the chances of the various athletes representing Canada. Hal's letter, which was written on board the R. M. S. Teutanic the day before its arrival at Liverpool, is as follows:

"I am writing you a few lines to tell you how the Canadian Olympic team is training. We arrive at Liverpool to-morrow morning and I tell you we will all be glad to get off.

"We have worked out every day since leaving Montreal and all the boys are in pretty fair shape. In the morning the Marathon runners, Forsythe, Fabe and Duffy, have their workout. Forsythe is representing the Winnipeg Telegram, while the others are from Toronto and Quebec. In my opinion Fabe is the best. He is a Frenchman and can speak very little English, so it is pretty hard to get anything out of him. There are two bicycle riders on board and they fork out every morning on a stationary machine, which gives them good practice. Their names are Brown and Watson and both are entered in the 100 metre race. Brown is the better of the two. In the afternoon the sprinters and middle distance men work out and they are put through some pretty hard work. In my opinion Howard, the lanky colored sprinter from Winnipeg, looks to be the best, while Lukeman, McConnell and myself are very evenly matched in the 100 yards.

Beasley's Events.

"I am entered in the 100, 200 and 400-metre relay and may also run in the 1,600-metre relay. McConnell is in the 100, 200 and 400-metre relay, while Lukeman is entered in the 100, 200, pentathlon and decathlon event. He is in good shape and ought to give a good account of himself. Howard is in the 100 and 200-metre sprints and both the 400 and 1,600-metre relays. He is running strong and I am sure will be a point winner in the 200 metres, as he has an exceptionally strong finish. In the 100 metres he is slow getting away, which is a great handicap, especially as the Americans are very quick at getting away. I think his chances in this are slim.

Gallon Running Well.

"Gallon is running well in the 400 metres and should make a good showing, although I hardly think he will win. Brock, of Toronto, looks good in the 800 metres. He has done the half mile in 1.57. I think he will finish well up in the bunch. He is also entered in the 1,600-metre relay race. Jack Tait, of Toronto, is doing the mile in good time and, while I don't think he will win, he should get at least third. Goulding looks to be a sure winner in the walks, although said to be overtrained.

"Hodgson, the young Montreal swimmer, is entered in the 100, 400 and 800-metre swims and is looked upon as a sure winner in at least two of the three events.

Hal Was Seasick.

"Altogether there are 45 in our party and we are having a fine time. I was seasick a couple of days, as was also Zimmerman, the fancy diver, and Howard, the colored runner, but we are fully recovered now. Let me tell you it is not a very pleasant feeling.

"In the five-mile race Keeper, the Winnipeg Indian, looks pretty good, while in the ten-mile race Decotea, the Edmonton Indian, will be a strong bidder. Bricker, who is entered in the broad jump, has done over 23 feet in practice.

"The men who will probably make up the relay teams are as follows: 400 metres, Howard, Lukeman, McConnell and Beasley; 1,600-metre team, Gallon, Tait, Brock and Howard or Beasley.

"There are about ten oarsmen on board, including Butler, who is said to have a good chance in the singles, and the Argonaut eight, which won the American championship last year.

"President Merrick and Secretary Crow, of the A. A. U., are with the team and we have in Walter Knox a splendid coach, who is himself one of the best sprinters in the country.

Hal Taking Kerr's Place.

"I had an off day on the day of the Olympic trials at Montreal and had I run like I did at Toronto I would have been picked first. I am taking Bobby Kerr's place on the team and was chosen at the last moment. I won my heat in the Eaton games in the same time that the final was run at Montreal. I was beaten in the 100 at Montreal by about a yard. However, I made the team and will be satisfied if I make a good showing at Stockholm, which I think I will do.

"I am the youngest on the team. We leave for home on July 24."

Hal called the turn in the case of Howard and also Goulding, the Canadian walker. He has so far competed in the 100-metre and 400-metre reday events and, although he hasn't secured any points, has made a pretty good showing. In the 100 metres he came fourth in his heat and in the relay he and his mates were just nosed out by Germany in the semi-finals.

BONHAG GIVES FINE EXHIBITION

LEADS EASILY IN FIRST HEAT OF 5,000 METRES

Canadian Comes Second in Second Heat—800 Metres Was Wonderful Sight

Stockholm, July 9.—The fourth day of the athletic section of the Olympic games began in dull weather and rain in prospect. Several thousand people assembled for the principal event of the morning, which was the decision of the first three trial heats of the 5,000 metres flat race.

Americans were well represented in the spectators' benches in the stadium and had the satisfaction of seeing two of their men run away with the two first places.

Geo. V. Bonhag, of the Irish-American A. C., gave a fine exhibition in the first heat. Louis Scott, of the South Paterson Y. M. C. A., took the second heat by hard work. Garnet M. Wickoff, University of Ohio, was the only representative of the United States in the third heat and he was unable to finish.

Wrestling proceeded simultaneously with the running, but slow headway was made with that part of the programme. The list of competitors run into the hundreds and in some quarters it is said that the bouts will not be finished until its time to begin again at the Olympic games to be held in Berlin in 1916. The principal events to be decided this afternoon include the finals of the javelin throwing and the 400 metres relay race, two more trial heats in the 5,000 metres flat race and, if time permits, all the trial heats of the 1,500 metres flat race for which there is a big field.

Bonhag ran the first heat of the 5,000 metres flat race in his own way. He easily led the field throughout except for a brief moment in the middle of the race when G. N. Hull, the Australian, went ahead during the last mile.

MELVIN W. SHEPPARD

Irish-American A. C., New York, the crack American middle distance runner, whose failure to win his heat in the 800 metres was one of the surprizes of the Olympic games. In the final, however, Sheppard was just inches behind Meredith, another American, who won in the sensational time 1 minute 51 9-10 seconds, setting a new world's record.

The second heat virtually duplicated the first. The representatives of the United States made the pace for two-thirds of the race, the two English runners, E. W. Hutson, and C. H. Ruffell, following close on the heels of Louis Scott, South Paterson Y. M. C. A., and Edward G. Fitzgerald, N. Y. A. C. Joseph Keeper, the Canadian, and the two Swedes, B. Molig and M. Person, were only a short distance away. The real fight came early in the third heat when Huffell took the lead for a few yards, but so a dropped by the way. Fitzgerald came up to the front, but soon fell back and Scott reached the tape 4 yards ahead of Keeper, who was two feet ahead of Hutson. Person finished a lap behind, but his compatriot, Molig, withdrew during the first mile.

The United States showed very poorly in the third heat, Garnet M. Wickoff, University of Ohio, who started late, withdrawing before he had covered two-thirds of the distance.

The Englishmen, E. Glover, and C. H. A. Porter, led most of the way keeping together well all the time. M. Hartelson, Sweden, challenged them in the last 1,000 yards. Coming to the front with a rush he then steadily gained, and finished 200 yards ahead of Glover, while Porter was another 100 yards behind. The Finnish representatives, A. Lindholm, and a Russian runner were out-distanced. The Swedish victory was greatly applauded.

Complete Results.

Five thousand metres flat, first heat—George V. Bonhag, I. A. A. C., first; A. Decotau, Canadian, second; F. N. Hibbins, England, third. Time, 15 minutes 22 3-5 seconds.

5,000 metres, second heat—Louis Scott, South Paterson Y. M. C. A. first; Jos Keeper, Manitoba, second; E. W. Hutson, England, third. Time 15 minutes 23¼ seconds.

Third heat—M. Karlsson, Sweden, first; E. Glover, England, second; C. H. A. Porter, England, third. Time, 15 minutes 34 3-5 seconds.

Last Night's Events.

100 metres swimming, back stroke, for men, first heat—Harry J. Hebner, U. S., first; O. Gross, Gery, second. Time, 1 minute 21 seconds.

Second heat—O. Fahr, Germany, first; J. Wenk, Hungary, second. Time, 1 minute 22 seconds.

Third heat—A. Barongi, Hungary, first; P. Kellner, Germany, second. Time, 1 minute 22 seconds.

Sets New Record.

100 metres swimming free style, for women, fourth heat—Miss Fanny Durach, Australia, first. Time 1 minute 19 4-5 seconds. Record for women.

1,500 metres swimming, free style for men, semi-finals, first heat—G. R. Rodgeson, Canada, first. J. Q. Hatfield, England, second; Hardwick, Australia, third. Time, 22 minutes 26 seconds.

1,500 metres swimming, free style, semi-finals, second heat—Lastorres, Australia, first; Foster, Great Britain, second. Time, 23 minutes 9 4-5 seconds.

Yesterday Afternoon.

Yesterday J. E. Meredith broke the world's record for 800 metres at the Olympic games, his time being 1 minute 52½ seconds.

Modern Penthalon, 300 metres, swimming free style, Ilford, England, 4 minutes 52 4-5 seconds; Lieut. Geo. S. Patterjer, America, 4 minutes 55 3-5 seconds.

Finn Wins 10,000 Metres.

Eleven runners started in the final of the 10,000-metres flat race. Only Kohlehmainen, Finland, Louis Tewinianina, Carlisle Indian school, R. S. Tenrose, Finland; Joseph Keeper, Manitoba, and A. Orlando, Italy, finished. The others were out of the race before the last mile had been started. Kohlehmainen led from the start, and Tewinianina was a close second for more than a mile and they were the only ones ever in the race. After a mile the Finn gradually gained with his great strides. The Indian reached the tape 300 yards behind.

800 Metres—Final.

The final of the 800-metres flat race was a wonderful sight. The eight runners were not twenty feet apart at the finish, Hans B. Raun, Germany, made a desperate attempt on the last stretch but he stopped exhausted within two yards of the tape. When the three American flags were hoisted great cheers arose all over the stadium.

James E. Meredith, Mercerburg academy; Melvin W. Sheppard, Irish-American A. C., and Ira N. Davenport, University of Chicago, finished in the order named in the final heat, and each broke the world's record in a sensational finish of the hottest race veterans in the stadium remembered.

Tug of War.

The tug-of-war team of giant Stockholm policemen defeated the London police by two pulls lasting respectively six and two minutes. The majority of the Englishmen were the same as those who dragged the Americans off their feet so easily at the Olympic games in London in 1908. The British complained that their opponents had sat on the ground.

GEO. GOULDING

Of Ontario, the first Canadian athlete to get a first at the Olympic games. Goulding won the 10,000 metre walk without any trouble.

GEO. V. BONHAG

Irish-American, A. C., who ran a sensational race in the first heat of the 5,000 metres at the Olympic games this morning, winning easily.

AL. PALZER MEETS JOHNSON LABOR DAY

That is, If Some Kind Promoter Will Guarantee Champion $30,000

Chicago, July 9.—Jack Johnson's recent demonstration on how to mar features of "hopes" without seriously injuring the recipent of the marring, has stirred up the courage of Al. Palzer, and has prompted him to sign for a champion for a ten-round go to be staged in New York Labor Day. Palzer passed through Chicago yesterday and had a conference with the titleholder. Johnson seemed pleased to see Palzer and quickly agreed to meet the Iowan, providing, of course, he gets $30,000.

The conqueror of Bombardier Wells and the annihilator of Jim Flynn passed a breezy hour together, with the result that messages were started towards New York promoters who are likely to fall for a $30,000 purse for Johnson.

PROFESSIONAL ATHLETIC ORGANIZATION FORMED HERE

Headed by T. J. Lee, late of South Africa, one time a prominent athlete, a number of local sportsmen have banded together and formed a new athletic organization, which is to be known as the Northwestern Cycling and Athletic League. If the present plans of the organization are followed out athletic meets will be held regularly, along professional lines. The inaugural event is scheduled to take place on July 20 at Oak Bay park. The programme will be composed of running, cycling, whippet races and a fifteen-mile marathon, starting somewhere in the vicinity of Parsons bridge and finishing at the Oak Bay track. Prizes aggregating $150 at least, it is said, will be offered.

R. C. CRAIG

Detroit, Y. M. C. A., who captured the final of the 100 metre dash at the Olympic games. His time, 10.4-5 seconds, equals the Olympic record. D. F. Lippincott, University of Pennsylvania, who lowered the Olympic mark by one second in his heat on Saturday, was third in the final, A. T. Mayer, Irish-American A. C., coming second.

Other details of arrangements will be given out later.

MARQUARD LOSES A GAME AT LAST

Sensational New York Southpaw Beaten by Chicago Yesterday—Taken Out in 7th

Rube Marquard, the senational New York southpaw, who has won nineteen games in a row, was beaten for the first time this season yesterday, when Chicago defeated the Giants 7 to 2. He was taken out of the game in the seventh and Tesreau put in. Marquard was opposed by Lavender, who held the National League leaders to five hits.

PITCHER FROM CLEVELAND SHOULD JOIN BEES SOON

The Victoria Baseball Club is bound to strengthen its pitching department if it can be done, and for that purpose has been negotiating with Cleveland for a likely right-hander. As far as the local club was concerned negotiations were closed, but it looks as if some hitch has occurred at the other end, for no word has yet been received from Cleveland as to whether the hurler is on his way or not. It may be all right and it may not.

What More Do You Want Than
A McLaughlin-Buick
Model '29,' 30 Hp. For $1875

You could buy a seven-passenger car, or you could buy more power. That is all. If you want a seven-passenger car, all right.

As for more power, you can get it, if you want to pay for it, but you do not need it on any car not carrying more than five passengers.

It has power enough to pull through streams, through swamps and through sand.

We can deliver immediately—call for demonstration.

TO BE WARM TIME AT YACHTSMEN MEETING

The Royal Victoria Yacht Club Members Meet To-Night to Discuss Urgent Matter.

There promises to be a warm discussion at the meeting of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club this evening, which is to be held in the A. O. U. W. hall, starting at 8.30 o'clock. One faction wants the scope of the club, on its removal to its new premises at Cadboro Bay, to be widened so as to take in sports and social functions other than merely boating. They propose that tennis courts, bowling greens, etc., be laid down and that the club house be fitted out with all modern conveniences and amusements for the members. In a nutshell they want an up-to-date country club. The other faction is of the opinion that the club should adhere strictly to the old order of things; that all attention should be paid to the enlarging of the organization as a club strictly devoted to yachting and motor boating.

There is plenty of money to carry out whatever reasonable plans may be made for the new premises at Cadboro Bay. The club has almost an acre of the very best water frontage at the bay and has $25,000 in the treasury, the proceeds from the sale of the old property on the inner harbor.

It is hoped that there will be a large attendance of members and others interested at the meeting to-night, as it is desirable that everyone connected or likely to be connected with the club express their opinions on the subject before a decision is arrived at.

BEES, HEADED BY MEEK, LEAD IN TEAM HITTING

Catcher Harry Meek still leads the Northwestern League batsmen and is steadily increasing his lead. That Harry isn't the only hitter on the team, though, is revealed by the official averages, which show that the Bees lead in team hitting. The averages:

As was predicted in the Times yesterday, Weed was switched to the outfield and Brooks put on first base. Brooks fielded a nice game and secured two hits, one of them a two-bagger.

• • •

Despite his poor showing yesterday Seattle got a promising young flinger in Southpaw Concannon through the interchange.

• • •

Outfielder Friene, who was laid off to make way for Weed in the outfield yesterday, will likely be given a try-out on the mound. It is easy to see by his throwing from the outer garden that he has an exceptionally strong whip and he is distinctive in that he is ambidextrous.

• • •

With the return of Clementson from Red Deer Victoria ought to be just about able to bat themselves out of the slump they have lately fallen into.

• • •

T. P. McConnell stated yesterday that Clementson would join the Bees not later than next Monday.

• • •

A question is asked whether the National League has the better hitters or the American League the better pitchers. Last season the question was reversed. Which ever way it's put it is as old as the contemporaneous existence of the two leagues.

• • •

Notwithstanding that Hughie Jennings won three pennants for Detroit the fans there are knocking him and he may be released at the end of the season. Wild Bill Donovan has been mentioned as his successor.

• • •

"Iron Man" McGinnity announced recently that he would never pitch again. The next day he shut Rochester out 2 to 0.

CRICKET JOTTINGS.

It ought not to be difficult to raise a gate of 2,500 people to witness a match between the Australian test team and a British Columbia eleven in Victoria. This would guarantee the necessary amount for the expenses of the Wallabies. It rests upon the cricketing fraternity of this city to take the first steps in the matter, or to let a golden opportunity of raising the status of cricket in the province slip by.

• • •

The Bachelors cricket team has entered the tournament, which is to be held here in August under the official name of "Masters of the University School."

• • •

Writing in a well-known London weekly, a certain W. E. Douglas, has devoted a whole page of space in proving to his own satisfaction that cricket is terrifically dull, and that as a sport it is on the wane. The next day the figures for the test match came out, and it was shown that nearly twenty thousand people were present throughout the whole of the three days, and that the country throughout was seething with excitement over the progress of the game. Nuff sed.

• • •

England did none too well yesterday in getting out for less than three hundred runs against the South Africans today. However, Barnes and Foster are quite good enough to account for the Africans for a less total than that. Woolley, the young Kent professional again rendered yeoman service with the largest score of the innings.

• • •

C. G. Macartney is still keeping at the top of both the batting and bowling averages of the Australians. In the former department he has played seventeen innings, made 960 runs with a highest score of 206 and an average of exactly 60. With the ball he has not bowled very often, but has taken 30 odd wickets at very small cost, and has easily the best average of any trundler in the team not excepting even the brilliant Pegler.

• • •

Warwickshire, the champions, had the misfortune to go down to their first defeat by a matter of three runs, and this despite the magnificent bowling of their captain, Mr. F. R. Foster, who took seven wickets for 21 runs. Leicestershire, however, by sheer grit and consistency, managed to get the champions out just in time to secure the full complement of points.

• • •

Though Yorkshire were defeated by Middlesex in the county championship tourney, the game was remarkable for a stolid, patient and wonderful display by Wilfred Rhodes, the Tykes crack batsman, who for two hours and a half played the Middlesex bowling on the trickiest of wickets with admirable skill. Tarrant, the opposing trundler, found a place that caused the ball to do queer things in the way of kicks and spurts. The Yorkshireman was out to a magnificent catch, due to a mere fractional mistiming of the ball, and after his dismissal a Yorkshire rot set in, and they were easily beaten.

• • •

If anything should have brought the claims of Hitch to the notice of the test match selection committee, it was his performance just before the Australian match. Bowling with the wind behind him and just sufficiently across to swing the ball on to the stumps. He bowled at a tremendous pace, and that was the secret of his success for the majority of the batsmen could not time the ball. His full analysis read for the innings.

And this against a first class county team. It was a brilliant performance that won for the Surrey pro high praise.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, above the average level of the lowest low water in each month of the year. This level is half a foot lower than the datum to which the soundings on the Admiralty chart of Victoria Harbor are reduced.

FIGHT CRITIC SAYS FLYNN'S TEMPER LOST HIM CHANCE

W. W. Naughton, the famous fight critic of the San Francisco Examiner, who has been attending championship fights for the last twenty-five years, says that Jim Flynn had Johnson badly tired and worried in their fight at Las Vegas last Thursday and would have had an excellent chance of winning had he controlled his temper. Naughton says that Johnson's holding was just as much a foul as Flynn's butting.

SERIOUS OUTLOOK FOR OIL BURNERS

Union Company Refuse to Supply Liquid Fuel in British Columbia

Vancouver, B. C., July 9.—The Union Oil Co., which has the contract for supplying the C. P. R., declares that no more cargoes of fuel oil will be shipped to Vancouver until a definite ruling has been laid down at Ottawa covering the question of duty. The Washtenaw cargo was discharged after a delay of four days, when the C. P. R. put up a bond for the duty claimed. The matter is now being argued at Ottawa, and until a definite conclusion is arrived at the oil-tankers will omit Vancouver. The C. P. R. steamers will therefore have to bunker elsewhere, probably at Seattle.

CITY OF PANAMA.

San Francisco, July 9.—The Pacific mail steamer, City of Panama, which sent wireless calls for assistance when one of its engines broke down 250 miles southwest of San Pedro on Sunday, was towed into port here early to-day by the steamer Rose City, of San Pedro. The City of Panama was en route to Panama from this port.

Pacific Mail officials said the injury was slight, and that the vessel would clear for Panama to-morrow. She left the Golden Gate for Panama on July 5 in command of Capt. J. W. Carlson.

HEAD LIGHTS

Insane with the solitude occasioned by a long stay in the country north of Alert Bay, Harry Baker, a middle-aged rancher, was brought on the Princess Beatrice from Alert Bay to Vancouver Sunday. His commitment on a charge of lunacy had been previously made by the local magistrate at Alert Bay. Provincial Constable Helmsing, who brought Baker from Alert Bay, handed him over to the care of the asylum authorities at New Westminster.

• • •

The tanker Washtenaw, of which so much has been written on account of her being delayed in unloading in Vancouver through the customs intervention, was formerly the City of Oxford, and was built in the Old Country 25 years ago. The vessel formerly operated out of Liverpool under the Union Jack, and only recently changed her flag when purchased by the Union Oil Company, and adapted for her present uses.

• • •

The Hopkins brought in yesterday to be cured, preparatory to being sent east, a large consignment of spring salmon, from J. H. Todd & Sons' traps. The preparations for the salmon run are considerable at every point of vantage in the Straits and Gulf of Georgia, Todd & Sons having five traps operating in the Straits this season.

• • •

The next vessel of the Maple Leaf line to arrive here will be the Queen Amelia, which brings a large cargo for this port. Mr. Buchart's new yacht and a large consignment of steel for the new Princess under construction at Bullen's yards, are the principal consignments to this port.

• • •

The Princess Patricia is the fastest C. P. R. boat on the coast, says the chief engineer, J. O. Flanagan, of the Washtenaw, and he believes she can make 24 knots an hour, and accordingly can beat the Princess Victoria, the holder of the blue ribbon, on the Princess Charlotte.

• • •

The Lady Mine and the Jessie, two of the sealing schooners, are undergoing a thorough overhauling at the ways of the Victoria Machinery Depot, prior to going into new services.

• • •

The Princess May came in from the north yesterday evening, and was engaged unloading this morning at the C. P. R. wharf.

• • •

The Ysabel May took on supplies today for another run out to the halibut banks. She will leave again to-night.

VICTORIA AND FRASER RIVER

PROGRESS OF COMPANY PROPOSING SERVICE

Extensive Scheme in Which Capital City Would Share Benefits

The Times was in a position to make the first announcement recently of the proposed operations of the B. C. Transport Company, when E. J. Fader, the New Westminster capitalist, was in the city. Now further information of the intentions of the company is forthcoming in an interview published in the New Westminster News with J. C. Burlingham, managing director of the Globe Industrial Corporation, Ltd., of London, England, one of the visiting British manufacturers.

He said that nothing definite about the proposed service with the capital city could be given out yet. Mr. Fader had observed on that occasion that they would put on fast passenger boats of light draft, for the run between Victoria and the Fraser river, calling at river landings en route to New Westminster.

Mr. Burlingham said the intention was to use the 600-foot wharf at the lower end of Front street as the Pacific terminus. He pointed out, at the present time, freight consigned to the smaller units of the corporation already established in this province came in over the Blue Funnel line at a standard rate of approximately 60s. a ton. With the operation of a line of their own, freight could be handled as a paying proposition, instead of as an expenditure, because the various manufactories in British Columbia who were but branches of the British Columbia Transport Company, could ship out their goods to a "made" market in England, and that the headquarters of the company in England would also create a market for their output in this province.

Lumber, farming produce, mineral wealth, salmon, and other products indigenous to British Columbia, would be shipped out over this line which would take the Panama canal route soon after the completion of that undertaking next year. From England would come the diverse articles manufactured by the branches of the company there. Practically unlimited capital and a corporation which controlled nearly a dozen companies in the British Empire were behind the scheme.

Referring to the English and Canadian markets for the freight to be carried by the proposed company's lines, they would work into one, being controlled by the company at both the English and Pacific coast shipping ports, and would without doubt necessitate the construction of large warehouses, offices, stores and yards, to accommodate the traffic. Eventually, of course, it would be found necessary to increase waterfrontage, and wharfage on the Fraser to keep pace with increased transportation.

PROGRESS UPON THE PRINCESS STEAMER

Third Consignment of Steel Arriving on Queen Amelia Next Month

The new Princess for the West Coast service of the C. P. R. is making good headway on the stocks at the B. C. Marine Railway, where material has been assembling for some months, two consignments coming out respectively on the Blue Funnel liner Bellerophon and the Kentra of the Maple Leaf line, which recently brought 600 tons to Esquimalt. The next freighter of the same line, the Queen Amelia, will bring the balance of the steel required by the Princess in her construction. The Maple Leaf boat will report about the second week in August, according to advices to her agents. By that time the yards will be ready for the material she will bring out for this contract.

Some 150 tons of material for her construction have already passed through the shops, and a gang are busy on construction at the present time. A representative of the company stated yesterday she would be completed in contract time and accordingly the launching may be looked for in about four months.

The vessel is to be equipped with all suitable requirements for a boat on the West Coast trade. Bullen's yards are busy at the present time, the Restless having undergone minor repairs recently, and the Princess Ena has also recently come off the ways, and resumed her engagements.

HUMBOLDT BRINGS NEWS OF NORTHLAND

Steamer Run Down by Her Barge, and Breaks Steering Gear

Seattle, Wash., July 9.—The steamer Humboldt arrived in port last night from Skagway with a good fish cargo, and passenger list. She brought $250,000 in gold bullion from Dawson and Fairbanks mines, and the report of the grounding of the steamer Northland in Wrangell narrows when her tow ran her down and demolished her steering gear. Passengers who boarded the vessel at Petersburg told of the mishap to the Northland on her northbound voyage to Sitka on the evening of July 2. While towing the barge Washington she attempted to steam through the narrows at ebb tide and went aground. The barge drawing less water ran her down, and her steering gear was broken. The Northland came to anchor with no further damage.

SCHOONER EXPANSION DAMAGED BY GALE

Makes Suva and is Compelled to Discharge Lumber Cargo

Seattle, Wash., July 9.—Badly battered by a heavy gale which she encountered six weeks out from Grays Harbor for Valparaiso with a cargo of lumber, the American schooner Expansion, Capt. Jacobsen, put into Suva, Fiji Islands, in distress, and was forced to discharge her lumber cargo there. She was under charter to Hind, Rolph & Co., and news of the lumber carrier's misfortune was reached at the company's offices here this morning in a telegram from San Francisco.

The Expansion sailed from Grays Harbor on April 17. The regular course to Valparaiso and other points on the west coast of South America takes sailing craft far to west with the trade winds, after which they turn and then make a straight run eastward to their destination, though they often get well out toward the South Sea islands before they head eastward. The Expansion was on this course when she encountered the gale in which she nearly foundered.

At Suva an effort was made to repair the loaded schooner, but it failed, and she discharged her cargo. Repairs are now under way.

VICE-PRESIDENT DONALDSON.

Morley Donaldson Appointed Vice-President in Charge of Western Lines of G. T. P.

The new president of the Grand Trunk Railway has been exceedingly fortunate in finding an able man to fill the office of vice-president and general manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific lines west of Fort William, vold by Mr. Chamberlin's election to the presidency of the entire system. Mr Morley Donaldson is a thorough all-round man. He was born in Scotland some 60 years ago, and has lived the greater part of his life in Ottawa, is popular with other officials, well-liked by his neighbors and prominent in club and social, as well as the business life of the capital. Mr. Donaldson will have his headquarters at Winnipeg, and will have charge of the construction, transportation and maintenance departments. No date is set as yet when he may be expected on the Coast on his first inspection trip.

ANOTHER CHARTER FOR CARGO TO SOUTH

SUPPLEMENTARY BOAT TO ANTIPODES IN FALL

Zealandia Introduces Eight-Hour Day for Seamen Generally

It is announced from Vancouver that the Canadian-Australian line will charter an extra steamer for the fall, starting from this end about the first week of October. A vessel, the name of which is not disclosed, has been chartered for a voyage to relieve the pressure on the regular liners, and follows the precedent set last fall when the Kish was put on the run. She will load at the Pacific ports to which the Union Steamship Company maintain a service, and will supplement the schedule already prepared.

The Marama, which is due here on July 23, left Auckland on Friday with 63 saloon passengers, 60 cabin, and 73 steerage. Her cargo totals 1500 tons.

The Zealandia will leave here to-morrow evening, taking about 250 passengers, including the High School Cadets from Vancouver. Hon. R. E. O'Connor, judge of the Australian federal high court, and his son, will return on her. When she leaves port the eight-hour day for crews will come into effect, under the award of Mr. Justice Higgins, in the federal arbitration court. This award has to be observed by all ships flying the Southern Cross, and became effective last week.

Under this system the crew takes a watch of four hours, and is then eight hours off, and then takes another four hours watch. The old system was to have the crew take a watch of four hours and then a watch below for the same period until 4 o'clock, or eight bells, in the afternoon, when the first "dog watch" went into effect until 6 o'clock, or four bells, and the second "dog watch" lasted until the following eight bells. There will be no "dog watches" and the men will be on and off duty for the same period as has formerly been the privilege of the officers.

Under the award the wages of able seamen are increased from $37.50 a month to $40, while the wages of the ordinary seamen is increased from $15 to $30, with $25 a month for those under the age of 18 years. Both the officers and men are paid overtime, when compelled to work longer than the regular watch on deck calls for, and the entire situation aboard the vessels is similar to the conditions ashore in Australia.

Capt. J. D. S. Phillips intends that every member of the High School Cadets corps shall be introduced to Father Neptune when crossing the equator. The time honored custom of the sea calls for an impressive ceremony when crossing the line, and those making their first trip across the equator are put through a course of which they speak for the rest of their lives. Neptune, with his consort, arrives on board by clambering over the bows. He is attended by his court, and those who are making their first trip haled before him. The subsequent proceedings provide plenty of fun, and as a genial mariner, Captain Phillips is going to take personal interest in the ceremony. The cadets will be introduced to Neptune's realm in style befitting the importance of the occasion. The Zealandia will sail promptly at noon from Vancouver and there will be a large crowd on hand to see the liner sail. On her last voyage to Sydney the Zealandia did some long distance wireless talking which received comment in the Australian papers. She sent and received a message to Honolulu when 2200 miles from that port. Sydney was picked up at a distance of 1250 miles, and the Marama spoken at 1176 miles.

TALLY-HO IN MORNINGS.

Will Meet G. T. P. Boats in Future, and Afford Similar Facilities As Afternoon Visitors Enjoy.

An addition to that typical Victoria institution, the tally-ho, to enable visitors who arrive in the mornings to see something of the city just as the afternoon visitors have ample opportunity, has been arranged in conjunction with the G. T. P. steamers. The tally-ho will leave the offices of the company at 8.30 a.m. on Sundays, Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, and occupy an hour and a quarter to see the attractions of the city, returning in time for passengers bound for Vancouver, the north and for Seattle, respectively, to take the steamers without undue rush.

The change will be brought into operation at an early date, and hotels and other places where tourists require this information will be duly notified.

VENETIA MAKES CALL AT ESQUIMALT HARBOR

John D. Spreckels' Pleasure Craft Cruising in These Waters With Friends

The Venetia, the handsome pleasure craft of John D. Spreckels, the San Francisco millionaire, anchored off the outer wharf yesterday, and lay to just out of the fairway about 5 o'clock.

Captain Thompson put off in a motor boat, to make inquiries about berthing, and having expressed the opinion that it was not usual to berth the Venetia under the circumstances, he said they would probably remain in the stream.

Captain Thompson was met by W. M. Allan, manager of the shipping department of R. P. Rithet & Co., and a representative of the immigration department, who went aboard in the launch. Afterwards it was decided to take up a berth in Esquimalt harbor, and this was done.

The guests on board with Mr. and Mrs. Spreckels are Mrs. Woolson, Mrs. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. Du Pre and Mr. Augsburg. They have recently come from Puget Sound, and are cruising in easy stages. The visitors, who anticipate getting away to-morrow, paid a visit to the city this morning.

The Venetia was purchased by Mr. Spreckels about two years ago from Senator Elkins, the Pennsylvania traction king, and is a boat of 500 tons. She is 150 feet long, and carries a crew of 28 men. She can develop about 12 knots. She came here from Tacoma. Before going north to Alaska she will call in Burrard Inlet.

MARRIAGE REFERENCE CASE

Ottawa, July 9.—A cable from London received yesterday from Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, states that the privy council has granted leave to hear the appeal case in connection with the Ne Temere decree and the Lancaster marriage bill reference on the 22nd instant. This means that the final decision of the case will be given much sooner than was expected and the least doubt as to the legal effect to the Ne Temere decree will probably be removed by August.

MISS MAY TULLY

Snatching a few days' respite from an exacting, though very successful professional tour, Miss May Tully, the well-known comedienne, is renewing old acquaintances in the city of her school-days, and is mightily enjoying the relaxation. She arrived in Victoria yesterday afternoon and is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. J. O. Hearn, Rockland avenue. She is playing on the Orpheum circuit and took advantage of the lull between her engagements at Portland and San Francisco to visit her old home. Her "vacation," if such it can be termed, necessarily must be brief, but Miss Tully's rapid rise in the theatrical world indicate that energy is very liberally allied to talent in her composition and she will make the most of her short visit. Within an hour after she arrived she was out sight-seeing and before the evening, had run the gamut of the very latest and most approved itineraries set forth in the guide books. This is not Miss Tully's first visit to Victoria since she left for the east, ultimately to become associated with a professional stage career, and the fact that during her tours to the Pacific coast she steals away from the scheduled route for a brief visit to this city proves that her many successes in the big centres of the east have not obliterated pleasing recollections of her old home.

Victorians generally, and her many friends here particularly, have followed Miss Tully's career with gratified interest. There is no doubt that she has been conspicuously successful. Her prolonged engagements under highly profitable auspices, the encomiums of the critics, and the cordiality of her reception by the public, are excellent proofs of it. There are scores of players on Broadway, many of whom were in the profession when Miss Tully was a school-girl, who would give much for half the success which has attended the career of this young Victorian, who through ability, determination and force of character, has attracted the favorable notice of the arbiters of the stage.

Miss Tully's first dramatic venture was with a company playing "The Christian." From this production she passed to several others, all the time studying diligently and familiarizing herself with the many phases of an exacting profession. She saw early the trend of public favor towards vaudeville and the rapidly increasing popularity of one-act sketches, and, organizing a company, she tried out a clever little piece called "Stop, Look and Listen!" This was an instantaneous success, and obtained a contract extending over several years. It has been produced by Miss Tully in every large city in America, and was always a feature attraction. It then occurred to her to have a hand in the composition of her own productions. She worked out the idea, and in collaboration with two others she produced "The Battle Cry of Freedom." Like its predecessor it caught on, and was placed on a long contract, which Miss Tully can extend for a term of years if she desires. But two years in one production she regards as long enough. Besides, there is another one incubating, and that it will be as successful as her present vehicle nobody doubts.

During an interim she embarked on an interesting venture. She joined forces with Christy Matthewson and Big Chief Meyers of the New York Giants in the production of a baseball skit called "Curves." She entered into this piece with especial zeal for, be it known, May Tully is a baseball fan, a real fan, so much of a fan in fact, that John J. McGraw, the manager of the Giants announced in that dogmatic style of his "that she was one of the best fans in the country." No sporting editor of a metropolitan journal can out-talk May Tully on baseball. She knows the game, the players, batting, pitching and fielding averages, umpires good and bad, good ball towns, bad ball towns and the baseball outlook generally. Last fall while the Giants and the athletics were engaged in a death struggle in New York, Miss Tully was playing in Toronto. It was on a Saturday afternoon and she had to give matinee and evening performances—and in New York Christy Matthewson and Chief Bender were battling for the baseball blue-ribbon. It was a test of concentration, and she gave the performances, but she did not linger at the theatre after the act. She sought a bulletin board, and camped there until the game was over.

Miss Tully and the three supporting members of her company will play in 'Frisco for a week, after which she will proceed gradually eastward. She is a strenuous worker, and plays all the year round. The three days she spends here are her holidays. Her spare moments between performances are often devoted to reading manuscripts of sketches written by ambitious young near-playwrights. She always has a bundle of them with her, and if they all can't be used on the stage, they make interesting souvenirs. Success thus has its penalties.

THE OWNERSHIP OF OAK BAY ESPLANADE

Belongs to the Municipality, But Survey Is to Be Made.

The most interesting item of business at the meeting of the Oak Bay council yesterday evening resulted from the reading of a letter from a firm of Ottawa solicitors on the subject of the Oak Bay esplanade. There had been some misunderstanding as to whom the esplanade belonged, and the solicitors at Ottawa had been deputed to enquire into the nature of all deeds connected with this property, and report to the council. The reply was read in the meeting last evening.

It appears that the land adjoining, originally belonged to the Hudson's Bay Company, and that it was conveyed by them to John Tod, who subdivided and conveyed one part to S. Todd. The latter conveyed in his turn all of subdivision one to G. A. D. Fuller. The names of later holders were given up to the final subdivision in 1891, and it was finally pointed out by the lawyers that on the original map there were three lines, being the low water line, the high water line and the property line. They gave it as their opinion that all the land below the property line, that is, that part known as the esplanade, belonged to the municipality, but recommended that a survey should be taken, and the matter thoroughly inquired into.

The question of reserving a piece of ground which should serve as a park for the use of the public was mooted in a letter to the council by F. Burrell, who recommended a suitable location. The writer pointed out that Oak Bay was growing very rapidly, and it was only right that some part of the district should be reserved, to act as "lungs" for the municipality. The question was discussed, and Councillor McGregor showed that the very question had come before them last year, that a committee had been formed, but that no results had accrued, as the council had struck a busy patch just at that time, and the matter had to be left over.

Councillor McGregor offered to form one of the committee if the petition were drawn up in due form for the signatures of one-tenth of the residents to be appended and presented in that form to the owners of the desired property for them to fill in the figure at which they offered to sell it. The reeve objected to this method, as did other members of the council, whereupon Councillor McGregor immediately withdrew his offer to form one of the committee. The reeve appointed a committee of two to enquire into the lowest figure at which the property could be obtained, and report at the earliest possible time.

The reports of the general works and finance committees were presented, and the engineer presented estimates for the cost of making sidewalks on Chaucer street, Hampshire road North, St. Patrick street, and for grading and putting down sidewalks on St. David street and St. Patrick street.

THE PASSING SHOW

The emotional acting of Miss Verna Felton appearing as "Zira" in Henry Miller's drama of that name called forth abundant applause at the Victoria theatre last night, where the Allen players staged the play for the first time in Victoria, and commenced the fourth week of their summer season here. Miss Felton added another to her list of successes, and gave a very dramatic performance, the most striking features of which were her fainting scene at the end of the second act, and the climax to the third act, where she pleads for forgiveness for the deception she has practiced on the good people who have cared for her for over a year.

Two other parts stood out more strongly than usual. These were those of H. Irving Kennedy, whose appearance as a reprobate was something new for him. The second was the excellently done clergyman of G. D. Zucco, whose impressive voice and splendid presence added much strength to the company.

"Zira" is essentially an English play, being from an incident of the Boer war telling the story of an assumed identity in which there evolves a tangle that involves most of the characters. As usual the cast was well selected, and the principals were ably assisted in carrying out the production. The Allen players have made a success here, and are drawing bigger houses every week, and a capacity house now is not uncommon. They will continue with "Zira" to-night and to-morrow night, and on Thursday and the remaining nights of the week the company will stage the famous Broadhurst comedy, "A Stranger in a Strange Land." Next week "Sweet Nell of Old Drury" will run for six nights and the Saturday matinee.

Princess Theatre.

"Black Flag" opened to a large house last night, and the audience was most enthusiastic. "Black Flag" is a comedy drama, bordering on the melodramatic. However, it has no impossible situations or climax, but is most realistic in all the scenes. The plot might be described as brother against brother, for one tries to lay his crime on the other's shoulders, and feels no compunction or sorrow when the innocent one is punished. Richard Linsdale as Harry Glyndon did more than justice to the part, and won the sympathy and interest of his audience in the first act. They remained loyal to him all through the play, and showed their appreciation by frequent applause. Miss Mildred Page was a sweet, lovable Naomi, and looked charming. Dave Williams, in the part of Lazarus, showed himself an exceptionally clever comedian. His conception of the character was splendid, and could hardly be improved upon. Little Ned, the outcast, impersonated by Miss Hallie Mitchell, should not be overlooked, as it was well done.

"Black Flag" is in five acts. In the first act the impression of depth given to the stage by the scene painter's art was excellent, and the ocean scene in the third act was most realistic. "Black Flag" will be on all week, excepting tomorrow's matinee, when "The Sweetest Girl in Dixie" will be produced for the Regina sufferers.

The Empress Theatre.

Spencer Kelly and Marion Wilder, who made a great hit when they last appeared at the Empress theatre, are duplicating their previous success this week. They present a medley of old-fashioned songs and harmonies, airs that will always be popular and win considerable applause. Mr. Kelly, who has a baritone voice of exceeding richness, and Miss Wilder, whose lyric soprano is highly trained, blend their voices well, and they give a repertoire of pleasing vocal music.

Robert Le Roy and Aileen Harvey, two former legitimate stars who have headed various companies, present a sketch entitled, "Rained In." The plot deals with a western episode and the treatment is in keeping with the invigorating environment of the broad western country. The situations and dialogue are most humorous.

May Elinore, who shared a big vaudeville reputation with her sisters when they appeared as the Elinore Sisters, is seen at the Empress theatre this week for the first time playing alone. Miss Elinore is a clever comedienne and offers an interesting contribution to the programme.

The Hanlon Brothers, two athletes who are fine specimens of physical manhood, appear in a physical culture and gymnastic act. They introduce several remarkable feats of strength, and their feats of head balancing and gymnastics are well done. Athletic novelties are rare these days, but Hanlon and Hanlon have managed to introduce several new features.

E. J. Moore, conjuror and sleight-of-hand performer, shows himself to be a brilliant performer in this line. He is not only a good conjurer, but a capital comedian and maintains a running fire of merry chatter all the while he works.

SCOUTS' CAMP.

Warm Welcome Sent to Vancouver to Fairview Boy Scouts.

The appended message has been sent by the Scout master and secretary of the Y. M. C. A. troop to the Fairview branch troop of Boy Scouts in Vancouver. The mainland boys are coming to take part in the Victoria Scouts' camp at Goldstream on June 27. The message is:

"To the brother scouts of the Fairview Branch.

"We, the members of the Fourth Troop of Victoria, would like you to know that we look forward very keenly to your camping here in conjunction with us this summer. We are sure that you will like the place we have found for camping, and everything points to us having a splendid time together. We hope that you are coming.

"(Signed) Secretary Jno. H. Healy, Scoutmaster O. Hughes."

It is expected that thirty-five of the Vancouver scouts will arrive on the 26th to take part in the camping.

The present Lord Tennyson relates a story of his dead father, the Poet Laureate, which shows the thoughtful kindness of Queen Alexandra. It was on the occasion of a voyage with Mr. Gladstone, and many distinguished people were on board the vessel, Tennyson read "The Grandmother," because the then Princess of Wales had asked for the poem. "I read it," he said, "in a cabin on deck. The Princess sat close to me on one side and a young lady whom I didn't know, on the other. The wind came through an open window, and the Princess whispered, 'put on your hat.' But I said that I ought, if possible, to make myself balder than ever before so many royalties. She said again, 'Oh, put it on!' So I did, and I heard afterwards that the King of Denmark's court fool, who was in the background (they really kept a court fool), remarked, 'He may be a laureate, but he has not learnt court manners.' When I was done the ladies praised me, and I patted the unknown one on the back by way of reply, and presently found out that she was the Empress of Russia."

The Evening Chit-Chat

By Ruth Cameron

"If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting, too;
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting;
Or being lied about, don't deal on lies;
Or being hated, don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good or talk too wise."
—Kipling.

To be clever is an excellent thing. To know how to throw a veil of unconsciousness and pretense of being just like other people over your cleverness is even better.

Likewise, to be accurate and right when you make a statement is a good thing.

To know better than to be positive when you make one of these accurate statement is a good thing.

I wonder if there is any quality which wins for its possessor more dislike than positiveness?

It may be founded on the most praiseworthy accuracy and "well informedness," but that makes no difference—to a world made up mostly of common people, positiveness is always irritating.

Haven't you often noticed how delighted everyone is when one of the positive folks by any chance is wrong?

If anyone else made the same blunder he would be unostentatiously set right. But when the positive man makes the mistake, it is heralded abroad and laughed over and made fun of, with great eclat.

The positive one cannot understand this. It seems most unjust to him. "I'm sure I'm usually a good deal more correct than these people who are crowing over me for this one blunder," he thinks resentfully.

Quite so, my friend, but you forget that by your "I-am-always-right" attitude you have been rubbing it into these people so long that they couldn't help being delighted at a chance to return the compliment.

For any, girl or man, either, for that matter—who desires popularity, I should recommend positiveness as a red light on the track to be sedulously avoided.

Be as accurate and well informed and as "right" as you can, but don't let on that you are so.

People will like you much better if you let them have the pleasure of discovering these qualities in you. People always like to discover things, you know.

"Be sure you're right, then go ahead" is excellent advice from a moral standpoint, but for social conduct, "Be sure you're right, then keep it to yourself" is better.

For no matter how well you fulfill the rest of Kipling's "ifs," if you fail in that one, if you "look too good or talk too wise," you nullify the rest and do not reach the full measure of a man.

RICH MATERIAL MADE UP PLAINLY.

Here simple lines and meager trimming show to good advantage a heavy grey satin. The front of the waist is draped with a shaped frill of cream lace, ornamented with smoke pearl drops. The soutache braid is used in closely set lines, exactly matching the satin in color.

A white leghorn hat, trimmed with cream color maline and roses, is worn.

A plan is being considered by the British authorities to drain lower Egypt with the result that the cultivated area can be increased one-third.

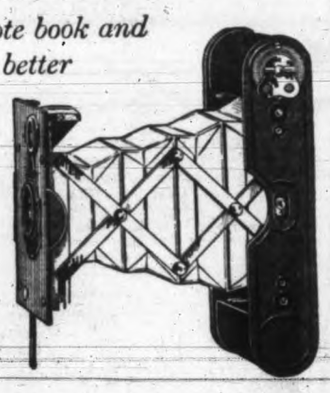
Vest Pocket KODAK



A miniature Kodak, so capable that it will convince the experienced amateur, so simple that it will appeal to the novice. So flat and smooth and small that it will go readily into a vest pocket, yes, and dainty enough for milady's hand bag.

And the Vest Pocket Kodak is efficient. It is small, almost tiny, but the carefully selected meniscus achromatic lens insures good work; the Kodak Ball Bearing shutter with iris diaphragm stops and Auto-time Scale give it a scope and range not found except in the highest grade cameras. Loads in daylight with Kodak film cartridges for eight exposures. Having a fixed focus it is always ready for quick work. Has reversible brilliant finder. Made of metal with lustrous black finish. Right in every detail of design and construction. Pictures, 1⅝ x 2½ inches. Price $7.00.

An important feature is that the quality of the work is so fine, the definition of the lens so perfect that enlargements may be easily made to any reasonable size, and at small cost—to post card size (3¼ x 5½) for instance, at 15 cents.

PIONEER PRIEST INTERRED TO-DAY

TRIBUTES OF RESPECT PAID TO HIS MEMORY

Requiem Mass Celebrated Over Remains of Late Father Brabant

A solemn mass of requiem over the remains of the late Father Brabant was held this morning at 9 o'clock at St. Andrew's Cathedral, the pews of the big building being filled with sincere mourners for the missionary who was so well known, beloved, and respected by members of his own church and all sections of the community.

The celebrant, at the deceased priest's own personal request, was the Very Rev. Mgr. Nicolaye, v. g.; the deacon, Father Heynen; sub-deacon, Father Leterme; Father Hylebos, of Tacoma (assistant priest), and Father Fisser, master of ceremonies, assisting at the mass. Other priests who assisted were Fathers Lemmens, Ronden, Cortenraed, Scheelen and Boshouwers; Father Carlin, of Tracey, Minn.; Father Coopman, of Anaconda; Father Vullinghs, Father MacDonald, Father Silver, Father Maurus, O. S. B., of Mount Angel.

Following the solemn mass of requiem Bishop MacDonald gave an address saying in part:

"We have come together to perform the last solemn rites of the church over the mortal remains of a priest of God. A laborer in the Master's vineyard has gone to his reward. The occasion is a mournful one; death and mourning go together, and death is always a cause of mourning, being the greatest of physical evils. But this evil which we call death was not created by God but by erring man himself. God was not the author of death; He is the author of life. God made man free; endowed him with immortality; invested him with free will. Death came through the sin of one man. 'The wages of sin is death,' and because of sin there is death in the world to-day. It is the greatest of physical evils; famine, pestilence, war, are but the satellites of Death, and carry out his behests. But, man has been saved from this giant evil; when God took on mortal form and descended to this earth and died for us, he passed through death for us, and triumphed over the grave. In Christ we have hope that we may conquer death, and be able to say: 'O death where is thy sting; O grave where is thy victory?' We need not now fear this King of Terrors, which God Himself has shorn of its awful aspect.

"We have come to pay the last sad rites of the Holy Church over the mortal remains of our friend and brother who has gone before. He was one of the disciples of the Master—one of the great number who have followed since those first disciples first heard the call of the Son of God on the shores of the Lake of Galilee. On that day the Master promised to give them things better in his service than they could get by serving the world.

"Even this poor life is sweet, and most of us would conquer death and live always, so through the Master we may yet enjoy a life infinitely better than the life we know here, and the life we see in this poor world. He who lies there sacrificed his life and gave himself up for God's sake to live with the poorest of God's poor—to win them to Christ because he had faith in the Son of God. He believed in the unseen in the better world, which is beyond and after this. He sought the things that are above rather than the carnal and base things of this world, and taught others to lay up treasures in Heaven, where the moth doth not consume, and where thieves do not break through nor steal. Those that he won to Christ will stand as bright jewels in his crown.

"We know how generous he was, and how strong; only a strong man could do what he did. For seven years he labored among the Indians; for seven years without comrade or friend other than those amongst whom he labored—and yet he never wearied or lost heart. Even after being shot, and so seriously wounded that he had to be brought here for medical treatment, he returned to the people once more to labor among them, even though maimed for life. And by the grace of God he made converts, and to-day those Indians are a model community. They are Christians, and they lead Christian lives. There are many who have gone before; those who knew him here, and who wait to greet him in the other world and be his crown of joy.

"I now ask your prayers for the eternal repose of his soul—for this has been from the first the custom of Holy church—even before the Son of God came into the world at all it was said to be a good and wholesome thought to pray for the dead that they might be loosed from their gins. Hardly anyone can pass through the world without getting some defilement that should be purged away. He who has passed from us asked that no man should speak about his life when he was gone, but we have overruled him, as it seemed fit that some word should be said on such an occasion as this—so once more I ask for your prayers."

The absolution was given by the bishop in cope and mitre. The bishop also blessed the grave, and performed the last rites in the cemetery. The following acted as pallbearers: F. A. Bantley, W. Baines, F. Sere, Dr. Garesche, Geo. Burns and A. T. Monteith.

REVISION COURT HEARS APPELLANTS

REDUCTIONS $12,500 ON MILLION DOLLARS

Property Owners Offer to Sell at Assessed Value — Immense Rise in Value Shown

Of over one million dollars assessed value of property before the Victoria Court of Revision this morning, there was but $12,500 reduction made by the court, while nearly $400,000 was taken into consideration and will be decided upon before the court finally rises. Many large property holders were represented, and from the addresses made to the court on their behalf it would appear that property in Victoria is not really so valuable an asset as the real estate operators have been asserting for some time past. Some of the appellants who appeared held that there was no sale for their real estate to-day, that real estate was worth what it would fetch in the market, and no more, and that at present some of it would not realize the amount of the assessment. One appellant went so far as to offer the members of the revision court his lot at the assessed value, and if either of them would buy he would throw in the improvements by way of discount.

The largest appellants heard this morning were the Victoria Wharf & Warehouse Company, the property in question being the outer wharf and consisting of four acres, assessed at $240,000; and Senator Macdonald for properties on Dallas road and on Bastion and Wharf streets. Fred G. Foulkes, who appeared for R. V. Winch & Company in connection with an assessment of $60,000 on Erie street, objected that his client had been given 15 feet and assessed thereon which he did not own. He also objected to the assessment generally saying that in 1905 the lot had been bought for $6,000 and was not assessed at $60,000. He offered it for sale at $40,000, but there were no takers.

E. V. Bodwell, K. C., appeared with J. H. Lawson, Sr., in connection with the outer wharf property, and submitted a statement of the company's affairs showing that the company had expended $495,862.67 in dredging, grading, blasting for retaining walls and maintenance, and that the whole property, including improvements, was valued by the company last December at $575,000. They also furnished a statement of the net revenue from 1908 when the net earnings were $13,587.25, on which a dividend had been paid. In 1909 the net earnings were $12,210.85, and there was no dividend. The next year the earnings were $7,673.55 with no dividend, and in 1911 there was a revenue of $40,742 against which maintenance and a new warehouse had cost over $71,000. In 1910 the property, that is, land only, had been assessed at $40,000, in 1911 at $120,000, and this year at $240,000. The court eventually took the matter under consideration.

Senator Macdonald protested the assessment of his Wharf street property assessed at $154,950. He said the assessment had been raised $30,000 this year and that although he had tried to sell the property there had been no buyers. The buildings were poor and rents were low, and, he said, the income was very low. Wharf street property was dead and he had not received a single bid for it.

Mayor Beckwith said that wherever modern buildings were constructed rents could be obtained, as tenants flocked to new buildings. Senator Macdonald said that some of the buildings were 40 years old, and while he used to get $100 per month rent, he could now only get $25. "I am willing," said the Senator finally, "to withdraw all my other appeals, as the assessor has been making me a rich man over my head, if the court will consider the wharf street property." The property on Wharf and Bastion streets, assessed at $79,750, was finally set aside for consideration, and the assessment of $58,200 on Wharf street was confirmed, together with that for $17,000 on Bastion street.

Mr. Bodwell endeavored to get at the basis on which the assessor rated the outer wharf assessment, but Mr. Northcott would not confess his method. The mayor reminded the appellant that lots in the district assessed at $30,000, that were not protested, would run five to the acre, and at that rate the outer wharf would amount to more than the assessment listed, at $60,000 per acre.

Alphonso O. Roy, who owns lots on Michigan street, objected to the assessment, and was reminded that he had bonded his property recently for $20,000. Mr. Roy offered to sell it for the value of the assessment and throw in the improvements. He remarked that the bonding occurred when some realty agents thought they could make a fortune out of it, and gave him a deposit of $100 in an endeavor to try to sell it at a higher price. He said he had bonded it for only $17,000, and the assessor replied that the property then must be worth the $8,000 for which it was assessed. When his oratory failed to move the court Mr. Roy retired, with the remark, "Well I don't begrudge the money, boys."

Other assessments that were ordered passed were John Barnswell, $2,400 on Johnson street; Hayward & Dods, $23,000, Mears and Fort street; W. G. Winterburn, $7,000, Lewis street; George Bell, $51,000, Yates street; Yorkshire Guarantee Company, $49,600, Humboldt street; E. S. Dowler, $101,000, Fisguard and Douglas streets, and three lots on Terrace street; and two lots on Elliott street, and two lots on Belleville street abutting, owned by A. von Alvensleben, $57,900.

Reductions allowed were: Frank Leroy, $500 on $6,000 assessment on Michigan and Montreal streets; Mercantile Investment Company, $9,000 on three lots on Erie street at $30,000 each; and $3,000 on a similar lot on the same street owned by Lewis and Roberts.

The court is still sitting.

Y. M. C. A. APPOINTMENT.

New Educational and Religious Work Secretary for Local Association.

A meeting of the board of the directors of the Y. M. C. A. was held at 2 o'clock this afternoon and was fully attended. A large amount of routine business was got through, but the most important item on the agenda was the question of the appointment of an educational and religious work secretary for the local association.

The following recommendation was sent in by E. M. Thomasson in favor of C. G. Raymond, who it will be remembered, visited the association only last week and was a guest of Mr. Thomasson.

"Mr. C. G. Raymond, of the Portland, Ore., association, upon our invitation visited Victoria last week with a view to accepting a call to become our educational and religious secretary. Mr. Raymond is a graduate of Washington University and has had two years' experience in the Portland association. I would, therefore, recommend that Mr. Raymond be secured for that work to begin his duties on September 1. He has splendid qualifications, is a young man of 26 years of age, splendid education, enthusiastic, and has proven his ability to handle successfully important lines of work in the association at Portland."

Mr. Thomasson's recommendation was accepted, and as Mr. Raymond has signified his willingness to serve in the capacity for which he has been chosen, he will commence his duties in the local building on September 1.

BENCHERS' REGRET.

Resolution of Appreciation of Services of the Late Hon. E. E. Pooley.

At their meeting yesterday the benchers of the Law society confirmed the following resolution with reference to the late Hon. C. E. Pooley, K. C., the late treasurer of the society:

"That the benchers of the Law Society of British Columbia, having learned at their meeting held this day of the demise of Mr. Charles Edward Pooley, K. C., treasurer of the said society since 1897, and desiring to record their deep sense of regret on such event and to tender to the family on behalf of the members of the legal profession of British Columbia the sympathy of the society in the loss suffered by Mr. Pooley's removal from their midst: Be it resolved that the benchers wish to place on record, and it is hereby ordered that it be recorded, their profound sorrow at the removal of one who has been an outstanding and honorable member of the profession since 1877; a bencher of the society since 1884, and treasurer since April, 1897; one whose unfailing courtesy as a gentleman, unswerving integrity and uprightness as a lawyer, and absolute honor of character made him not only invaluable as a colleague, but endeared him to those who were fortunate enough to be his friends. Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution, engrossed and signed by the treasurer and secretary, with the seal affixed, be forwarded to Mrs. Pooley as expressive of the high appreciation in which Mr. Pooley was held by his associate benchers as well as by the profession."

COUNCIL IS AFTER STREET END CONTROL

COMPANIES TO PAY RENTALS FOR USE

Hollywood Park Tent Dwellers Said to Lack Sewerage—Sanitary Officer to Report

Arrangements are being made by the city solicitor and the city assessor for the payment of rentals to the city by all who are permanently using street ends, and these are being called on to sign an agreement admitting their liability, or otherwise to be prosecuted in the law court and ordered off the street ends. Those particularly concerned are the lumber companies, the C. P. R., and the James Bay Athletic club. Of the lumber companies some of them last night wrote that they were willing to pay rentals, but some resisted, and in connection with these the city solicitor was instructed to proceed.

Rentals of $60 per month for large street end spaces were not thought sufficient by Ald. Humber. With regard to the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber Company an arrangement was suggested whereby the company would have to pay $360 per year for the use of the street end. This was not considered sufficient and it was decided to charge $720. Ald. Gleason and Ald. Cuthbert thought the lumber company was being charged too heavily, the latter urging the benefit the city derived from a large industry of this character. After Ald. Stewart had protested against any reduction the rate of $60 per month passed.

The Cameron Lumber Company and the Victoria Chemical Company will both be charged in proportion to the rate imposed on the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber Company. The Chemical Company registered an objection by virtue of an agreement with the city and the fact that the company had built a wharf at an expenditure of $850. W. J. Pendray and Company are using 9 feet of city street and the solicitor reported that the company had declined to pay for the use of it. The ultimatum of the city will be sent to the company to-day. It is to move back from the street or go to law. The C. P. R. wharf at the foot of Simcoe street is to be ordered to be removed unless the company, the city solicitor and the assessor can arrange a rental that will be acceptable to the council. Ald. Humber wanted the matter reported back to the council to avoid a rental of $15 per month being arranged.

Lemon, Gonnason & Co. will be charged $180 per annum for the use of part of Rock Bay avenue. Moore and Whittington are willing to pay rental for the use of part of Pleasant street but James Leigh & Sons decline, as the street line was marked for them by the city engineer before they built. Ald. Humber protested against $15 per month for the street end used by Lemon, Gonnason, saying it was ridiculously small, and he could lease it for that before he got as far as Yates street. There will be further reports brought before the council. The Raymond wharf, now owned by the C. P. R., was constructed on the understanding that it would have to be removed if the city required it, and the city solicitor is to negotiate for a rental there as well as to investigate the status of the James Bay Athletic club. Ald. Okell brought up Alston street, where the E. & N. Railway Company has built a section boss house in the road. This was included in the budget for the officials to report on.

Hollywood Park residents wrote to the council complaining of unsanitary tent dwellers on the shore lots. The sanitary officer said some of the tent dwellers had made sewer connections and that some of those who signed the complaint petition were the worst offenders. He was ordered to have a written report handed in by the next meeting of the council.

A vote of condolence was sent to the family of the late H. Dallas Helmcken, K. C., on the motion of Ald. Okell, and on the motion of Ald. Anderson, those who supplied motor cars for the trip to Jordan River will receive the thanks of the council.

OUR LETTER BOX

LOCAL SYCOPHANTS.

To the Editor: My text for to-day is the "Press of Victoria." I will confine my remarks to one daily and one weekly as representatives of the whole. Two papers that have "pulled together" for several years without special editorial imitation. What the older states, (right or wrong) the younger will swear to, particularly when "handling" their mutual enemy on the Liberal side; who, however, is not much depressed by their constant onslaughts, and only smiles, I am informed, and says "h'm."

It would be so nice to have in Victoria two perfectly independent, unpolitical papers that would not spend their existence watching for an opening to slang and misrepresent each other.

By the way, sir, do you know of any important subject productive of more meanness than politics? If you do you might mention it. If Victoria bears a resemblance to the "goodly apple" we read of, I should think her newspapers, with few exceptions, will be found "at the core."

There are some other defects, of less importance, to which it would be well to direct the attention of those didactic philosophers to whom I have referred. Marriages are invariably described as "pretty weddings," the bride is nearly always "charming and gracefully attired in white satin." I forget the trimmings. The mother of the bride is "elegantly gowned" and looks remarkably "genteel" upon all such occasions. This sameness of description is a sad strain upon the nerves of readers, especially in those papers I have referred to.

When a number of Conservatives are "invited to dinner" (as they put it in less pretentious England) we are somewhat pompously informed "they were extended a welcome and tendered a banquet!" The "gentility" of such beautiful language cannot be questioned, even if a little out of place in a free and democratic country "where one man is as good as another; age, and better," as a contemporary of yours once remarked. Victorians are also suddenly getting an overdose of Sir Richarding and "Sir Dicking" in some of the local papers. The lopping of surnames in the days of simple "Mr." was, of course, socially, of much less importance.

Papers that have not become degraded to this extent should warn morally sinking brethren against too much familiarity and sycophancy, which, we believe, breeds contempt and kills the proper dignity of such journals.

There are many other tiresome repetitions to which I might refer, but I will not trespass further on your space.

BUILDING BY-LAW TO PASS MONDAY

COMPLAINS THAT CITY WATER WAS CUT OFF

Stop Work on Small Sewers and Complete Large Outlet and Paving Drains

After having been in process of drafting for eighteen months and having been supervised by the fire underwriters, the architects and the builders, the new building by-law, containing 360 odd clauses was last night passed through the council, with the exception of its final reading, which will be taken Monday night next, when it will then become law. Two alterations have been made, one in regard to the class "A" area, and the second to a suggestion of the fire underwriters. The alterations are as follows:

The first-class building area is now confined in the following limits: Commencing at the intersection of the centre lines of Douglas and Cormorant streets; thence easterly along the centre of Cormorant street to a point 120 feet easterly from the eastern street line of Douglas street; thence parallel with the said eastern street line of Douglas street until it comes to the centre line of Courtney street; thence westerly along the centre line of Courtney street to the centre line of Douglas street; thence southerly along the centre line of Douglas street to the centre line of Humboldt street; thence westerly by the centre line of Humboldt street until it intersects the prolonged centre line of Langley street; thence along the said prolonged centre line and the centre line of Langley street to Yates street, and thence parallel with the western line of Government street to the centred line of Cormorant street; thence easterly along the centre line of Cormorant street to place of beginning. The second fire limits remain as first proposed.

The alteration, at the suggestion of the underwriters, is that in all cases where structures in the first fire limits are within thirty feet of each other wire glass and metal frames for windows and fire doors are obligatory.

Water Commissioner Raymur stated last night to the mayor and alderman that Skene Lowe, photographer, thought he could do as he liked. Therefore, to show him he could not, and to get him into line with other ratepayers in regard to the use of water, the commissioner had Mr. Lowe's service cut off, and the act was followed by an acrid letter from the photographer to the council, read last night, in which Mr. Lowe questioned the legal right of the city to cut off his water. He also made mention of "irresponsible employees" of the city. The term did not phase the water commissioner at all, and he forthwith explained that Mr. Lowe had persisted in watering his lawn at all hours when there was a scarcity of water. "He thinks he can do as he likes, and we have the same trouble with him every year," said the commissioner.

Mr. Lowe contended in his communication that the city had no legal right to cut the water off, and that in doing so it was depriving him of fire protection and submitting him to other risks. If the city had legal right to do it, he continued, it had no moral right. However, the council supported the action of the water commissioner, and the letter will be answered today to the effect that Mr. Lowe has the same rights as other ratepayers and no more.

McKay & McDiarmid, solicitors, submitted the judgment in Potter against the city for $500 and $104.65 taxed costs, which the council ordered paid.

Residents in the district where the Westholme Lumber Company is operating at Sooke, complained that the company was in the habit of blasting without signalling, to the danger of those in the vicinity. The matter was handed to the water commissioner for adjustment. The Victoria Football Club wrote acknowledging the receipt of $150 towards the trip to Winnipeg for the People's shield contests, and said the team had been unable to go. The club asked if the city would allow the donation to be used for the purchase of medals, if not they would return it. The finance committee will discuss the matter, and see what rights they have to make the change.

The engineer's report on the sewer loan expenditures was read, and Ald. Gleason said it was a fact that the money on hand would be insufficient for sewers still to be done. He said that in committee yesterday the engineer was asked for as complete a detailed report as possible, and it was agreed that all the little jobs would have to be stopped while attention was directed to the completion of the northwest sewer and to sewers in streets where new paving was to be put down.

Dr. G. A. B. Hall put in a health report for last month, giving 13 cases of infectious disease for the month and no deaths. Scarlet fever cases numbered eight, diphtheria three, erysipelas one, and measles one. Twenty-three indigent cases were treated at the Royal Jubilee hospital for a total of 385 days of treatment. Of this number seven are incurables who the medical officer reminds the council, should be treated in another institution used solely for that purpose. The analyses made by the city indicates that the quality of milk being vended in the city has greatly improved. Food inspection is proceeding, and two convictions of individuals selling impure food were secured. Garbage collection is being attended to, and with the erection of the sub-stations will be greatly facilitated.

After much discussion that the rates in the hired vehicles by-law were not high enough, the by-law was sent back to the committee for adjustment. The motor car hire rate was fixed at $2 per hour, and the Wood Motor Company wrote that it was insufficient. It will be raised to $3 per hour.

ALD. CUTHBERT SUBMITS REPORT

ON DELEGATION'S TRIP TO FEDERAL CAPITAL

Regarding the Bridging of Seymour Narrows — Council Thanks the Deputation

At the council meeting last evening Ald. Cuthbert, who represented the civic board on the delegation which went to Ottawa in connection with the bridging of Seymour Narrows, submitted the following report:

"Gentlemen: I have pleasure as a member of the city council and chairman of the Vancouver Island committee re bridging the Seymour Narrows in submitting my report of the work done by the delegation at Ottawa.

"Previous to our arrival there we had a meeting on the train, at which we came to a decision as to the procedure which should be adopted in laying our case before the government. This mode of procedure was strictly adhered to, and the delegation acted as one man with perfect unanimity, having in view only the success of our mission.

"We decided that as the question was a very big one, and one upon which we realized it would be extremely difficult to secure an absolute promise from the government to accede to our wishes as a whole without some further investigation, we thought it advisable to ask for something definite, namely, that a survey be made of the Narrows and vicinity, and in view of the fact that the plans and profiles prepared by Marcus Smith had been burned in the Ottawa fire of 1873-4, that new plans be prepared of the bridges necessary, with an estimate of the probable cost at the present time—this work to be carried out by the most eminent engineer available, and to be ready, if possible, for the next session of the House.

"As Mr. Shephard was a member of the Dominion House, and represented in that capacity a very large section of the central portion of the Island, we deemed it advisable that this request should be made by him.

"This procedure, we believe, in the light of what happened in the conference, was the very best we could have adopted, and the delegation was of the unanimous opinion that there was every probability of the government acceding to our request.

"It is impossible for us to over-appreciate the very courteous and candid manner in which the premier, Mr. Monk and Mr. Burrell received the deputation, nor to overestimate the keen interest which the premier himself showed in the object of our visit; and, when he was good enough to state that he and his government would consider this matter, not in the light exactly of conditions as they exist to-day, but of the conditions which will obtain in the very near future, the delegation felt very much encouraged indeed, and realized that their visit had not been in vain, there being every reason to believe that eventually it would lead to the accomplishment of the object desired.

The report made by Mr. Lugrin to the Board of Trade is of such an excellent character, and covers the interview with Mr. Borden so thoroughly that I take the liberty of attaching it hereto as part of my report, as it will undoubtedly be adopted by the delegation as a whole to be submitted to the committee when Mr. Boggs returns.

Harbor Improvements.

"I may also say that I accompanied Mr. Lugrin together with the other members of the delegation in support of the Board of Trade's attitude with reference to the harbor improvements, Esquimalt dry-dock, and other matters laid before the ministers and deputy ministers of the various departments.

"My report would not be complete, however, if I did not refer to the most excellent paper on Vancouver Island, read by Mr. Lugrin, after I had had the honor of reading the memorial which has already been published, and copy of which I attach hereto.

"I may also add that I think the personnel of the deputation was a happy one. Mr. Lugrin is probably one of the best posted men in British Columbia on this subject, and is well able to disseminate the information he has. Mr. Boggs, representing the real estate interests of Victoria, and an old acquaintance of Mr. Borden's, was very happy in the few remarks he made; while Mr. Shephard, as Mr. Lugrin says, was a tower of strength to us, and by his geniality and persistence helped us splendidly in everything we had to do.

"I beg to coincide with everything which Mr. Lugrin has said as to the advisability of continuing this or some other committee of a similar nature in order that this matter may not be lost sight of, and that now that we have inaugurated the movement it may by persistent and continuous effort be brought to a successful conclusion.

"I should not for a moment like the general public to consider that our work is ended—it is only just begun. It will require a great deal of effort in the future to keep this matter before the government, and before the British Columbia members, and to keep in close touch with the latter gentlemen that they may have all the information we can give them in pressing upon the government the advisability and necessity for carrying out of the business for which the committee was formed.

"In conclusion I might say that there was one thing which was impressed upon the minds of the delegation more than any other, namely, that if there is any important matter in which the city of Victoria and Vancouver Island are vitally interested, the only way in which to achieve the results desired is for some persons to go to Ottawa and get in direct and personal touch with the ministers and government so that they may be able to answer all the questions and inquiries which may occur to the ministers or their deputies in connection with the matters under discussion, and to create a personal and direct interest in the questions on the part of the ministers who happen to be at the heads of the departments which are charged with these particular affairs. More can be accomplished in two days on behalf of the city in that way than by months of correspondence, and whatever personal sacrifices may be entailed on the part of the persons sent, or whatever cost incurred by those sending them will be more than justified by the benefits obtained."

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The report was filed and the thanks of the council were extended to the members of the delegation. The aldermen expressed the view that the visit would result in much good.

9 Reasons

For Buying Lots In

Crescentboro

1. It lies on a beautiful slope to Portage Inlet, ensuring perfect drainage.
2. The ground varies from cleared and cultivated soil to rocky. Tree covered elevations from which may be seen the Gorge, Esquimalt harbor, Race Rocks, the Straits and Olympics in the distance, and yet on such a gentle slope that it is barely perceptible.
3. The lots vary from 50x120 ft. to over one acre, thus making it suitable to every purchaser.
4. Some of the most beautiful homes anywhere in or near Victoria lie on either side of this property.
5. The tram line is within 15 minutes' walk and the Causeway within 15 minutes by launch from Crescentboro.
6. It is closer than Cadboro Bay, where prices are ten times as high, and
7. FURTHER—The terms extended over 5 years at only 6 per cent and no taxes for 3 yrs.
8. That before the SECOND year's payments will be made the property will have doubled in value.
9. This property is in a class by itself. You will admit that when you see it. It is the kind of land that incoming settlers are seeking for HOMES.

Let us show you this property. Write or call for pamphlet showing views, plans, prices, etc. Motor leaves office hourly for Crescentboro.

BIRTHDAY CALENDAR

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

You will have an unsettled year and some thoughtless young people will annoy you. Do not be unduly influenced by superstitious imaginings, but endeavor to pursue a steady course. Those born to-day will have a romantic disposition and be interested in mystical subjects. They will be fond of travel and accumulate wealth.

IDEAS OF A PLAIN MAN

BY DR. FRANK CRANE

Haven't there been days when you felt all the innate meanness in you rising to the surface? It is as if the central fires of human cussedness had found their way, by some volcanic by some volcanic fissure in your nature, to daylight and consciousness.

Days they are when you are just plain mean. You want to bite and not to kiss, to scowl and not to smile, to kick and not to dance, to sulk and not to play, to rebel and not to conform. All the spirit of jailors, tyrants, kings, inquisitors, crochety old men, disagreeable old women, naughty children, wayward youth, witches, hags, pirates and bandits, somehow gets distilled into your mood.

If you were a child you would have it out, you would give vent to the Old Nick in you until some one kindly spanked him out of you. Alas! there is no spanker for grown-ups. That I regard as one of the greatest needs of civilization, a public spanking-machine for cantankerous adults.

There is no other known cure for this evil in the blood. For such a time that the memory of man runneth not to the contrary a vigorous application of the hand or slipper or shingle to the southern extremity of the human anatomy has been the tried and true remedy for general meanness.

I do not believe in corporal punishment, as such. To slap one's face is unpardonable. A horse-whip is unwarranted. But spanking, the reversal of the normal attitude, accompanied with good healthy slaps upon the place especially made for that purpose, never hurt anybody, and is sound, wholesome and a wonderful corrective to the vapors of the soul.

Children are better than grown folks because grown folks are not spanked.

NO BOTTLE LICENSES FOR PRINCE RUPERT

Mr. Justice Morrison Refuses to Issue Mandamus Against Board

Vancouver, July 9.—The fight between the license commissioners of Prince Rupert and the bottle license holders of that place, which has raged for some time in the northern city, was ended by Mr. Justice Morrison, who dismissed with costs the application of W. M. Maynard and others for a mandamus to compel the commissioners to renew the bottle licenses. The question of the bottle licenses crept into municipal politics at the last civic election, it being then alleged that a monopoly existed which the present mayor undertook to break either by adding more licenses or by refusing the present license holders renewals.

At the last meeting of the license board, the bottle licenses were refused en bloc, despite a largely signed petition asking that they be renewed. On the recent visit of Mr. Justice Morrison to Prince Rupert to hold Supreme court there, an application was made for a prerogative writ of mandamus to compel the commissioners to renew the licenses. Judgment was reserved on the application at the time. This is the application that has been dismissed with costs. No reasons for his decision were given by his Lordship in his judgment.

RAILWAY LABORERS ASK FOR INQUIRY

Want Investigation Into Conditions in Canadian Northern Camps

Vancouver, July 9.—In a series of interviews with Hon. T. W. Crothers, minister of labor, a deputation representing Vancouver organized labor asked for the appointment of a board under the Lemieux Act to investigate the walkout and conditions generally in the construction camps of the Canadian Northern railway in British Columbia. The labor men stated that they had been asked to do so by the railway laborers. The minister promised to give the matter his serious consideration.

This and other matters affecting labor were discussed at a prolonged conference here. During the discussions, which were attended by J. D. McNiven, Dominion fair wage officer, Hon. Mr. Crothers stated that the government was considering the advisability of extending the application of the Lemieux Act, which now only provides for the settlement of industrial disputes affecting public utilities. This expression satisfied his callers, who declared that it would tend to result in the abolition of the statute altogether, a thing they wished to see realized.

PROPOSED HOSPITAL.

Ashcroft, July 9.—The board of railway commissioners has arranged to meet a deputation from the board at the end of the present month. The committee appointed by the board has been carefully considering the different matters which are to be laid before the commissioners.

The petition to the Governor-General-in-council in connection with the sewerage act has been signed by most of the citizens and this petition will be forwarded to the officials this week.

The hospital committee is meeting with success in its efforts to secure a well-equipped and up-to-date building in the town for hospital purposes. A subscription list is now being prepared.

FOREST FIRES IN CARIBOO.

Ashcroft, July 9. — From all over northern Cariboo comes news that forest fires are raging. The upper Fraser valley, from the Cache down to the Big Canyon, a distance of 150 miles, on both sides of the river, has been denuded of timber. The valuable timber on the government reserve, twenty miles below the headwaters of the Fraser, has gone up in smoke. From the Moose lake down to the Fraser river, and thence down that river to the Clearwater, on both sides, is a raging fire.

BOY DROWNED.

Skidegate, July 9.—The weather for the last two weeks, has been ideal.

Capt. Fairbanks' two-year-old son, while playing on the wharf at Queen Charlotte City, fell into the water and was drowned.

A gasolene launch has returned from the northwest coast of Graham island. A cannery will be erected before next year's season opens.

The B. C. Fisheries are now erecting buildings and wharf for the fertilizer plant.

DIES AT NANAIMO.

Nanaimo, July 9.—The death occurred on Sunday morning of Charlotte Quennell, wife of John Quennell, Kennedy street, the deceased being unconscious since she was taken critically ill a week ago. Mrs. Quennell, who was married two years ago, was a native of Ontario, aged 29 years, and came to Nanaimo four years go. She is survived by her father, two brothers, William and Archie, and one sister, Mrs. J. H. Richardson, Vancouver.

CHINAMAN DIES SUDDENLY.

Prince Rupert, July 9.—Lee Hong, a Chinaman, expired on the wharf after being landed from the Prince John. He was taken ill at Naden harbor, and brought over for treatment to Prince Rupert. Dr. McNeill was summoned, but Lee had expired before the doctor could arrive. Lee Hong came from Victoria and had been one year in this country.

ARM TORN FROM SOCKET.

Creston, July 9.—By the catching of his clothing in the shaft, C. Henderson, of Ryan, was drawn into a fly wheel in such a way as to tear his right arm from its socket and crush his left arm so that it had to be removed above the elbow, at the Kootenay Lumber Company's mill at Ryan. A special train was called to take the injured man to the hospital at Cranbrook, where he now lies.

Why Not Have a Little Fortune Growing Up For You?

Perhaps you are not a farmer—never dug a post hole in your life—don't want to live away from the city—couldn't if you would—wouldn't if you could. But you know a dollar when you see it and you believe you are as keen on selecting a prime investment as any other fellow.

Now Look Here

Do you consider 100 per cent profit a fair margin on your investment? If you could put a dollar into a proposition to-day and be absolutely sure of getting two back at the end of even a year, wouldn't you do it?

Here Is Our Proposition

We have a few FIVE-ACRE FARMS left in SOUTH SAANICH.

YOU can have any one of them on a cash investment of $300 and you can have two whole years in which to pay the balance.

This land will double in value before your third payment is due—railway activities in this whole section assure this.

These farms lie just northwest of Elk Lake, eight miles from Victoria and the Victoria and Sidney railway runs right across the subdivision.

The soil is deep and fertile, a goodly portion is first class meadow land—the remainder is lightly timbered and very easily cleared. There is lots of good water on the property, but absolutely no rocks nor gullies.

Prices Range From $150 to $350 Per Acre

We want to show you these farms to-day, and our motors are at your service. MAKE AN APPOINTMENT.

SHORT INTEREST HAS BEEN EXPANDED

Pressure on New York Market Relieved—London Seller of American Issue

(By Courtesy F. W. Stevenson & Co.)

New York, July 9.—The list was not under such heavy pressure in the stock market to-day. London has been quite a large seller of American issues lately, presumably on reports which have been circulated during the past ten days of a surplus of copper metal larger than that indicated by either the copper producers' report or the statements put out as to the extent of foreign surplus.

Judging by the recent course of prices it would seem that substantial market interests are not as yet entirely satisfied that conditions warrant an enthusiastic stand on the buying side, though admittedly a great many weak accounts have been eliminated and the short interest expanded. A hardening of money rates is looked for.

VICTORIA STOCK EXCHANGE.

The feature in the local market at this morning's session was the rise in the bid for Stewart Land shares from $8 to $13, and Stewart M. & D. from 8½c. to 20c. Portland Canal shares, which have been practically unsalable for the past month, came in for their share in the rise of Stewart properties, and 2½c. was bid for a board lot. It is reported that interests identified with this property are making arrangements to commence work again upon the mine and this has given a more hopeful appearance to the whole mining camp.

RALLY IN CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET

Visible Supply in United States Shows Decrease—Government Crop Report

(By Courtesy F. W. Stevenson & Co.)

Chicago, July 9.—There was a change of sentiment in wheat to-day, and the best that can be said is that there was change enough in feeling to bring some rally and prices hardened slightly. Perhaps the fact that the market has had seven days' decline, including some very sharp dips, and that liquidation has been widespread and thorough, had much to do with the change of front on the part of the traders to-day. A few were outspoken in the belief that the break is over for the present. Others regarded the rally as largely due to evening up because of the official crop figures due at the close. The decrease of nearly two million bushels in United States visible supply, compared with increase of nearly 3,000,000 in the same week last year is the first positive proof that the comparisons from now on will greatly favor buyers. Outside markets as well as Chicago made fair recovery.

Action in corn futures at opening was as bullish. Good buying by former bull leaders and a few big houses was rather persistent all day. Possibly the trade feared a less bearish crop report than suggested by much of the fine weather talk of the past ten days. Traders look for oats to lag for a time in sympathy with the other cereals.

The official government report is herewith appended: Total winter wheat condition, 73.3; spring, 89.3. Corn, 81.5. Oats, 89.2. Barley, 88.3. Total yield, 194,000,000 bushels. Winter wheat, total yield, 358,000,000 bushels; spring, total crop, 629,000,000 bushels.

DEATH ROLL MAY TOTAL EIGHTY

TWO EXPLOSIONS IN COAL MINE IN ENGLAND

Many Men Killed While Trying to Rescue Entombed Comrades

Conisborough, Eng., July 9.—A double explosion in the Cadeby colliery in this district to-day caused the death of 65 miners. Many others are missing, and officials think the total death roll will reach 80. Among the victims are three government mine inspectors.

Many of the men met death while attempting to rescue their comrades who were cut off in the galleries by the first explosion. During their search a second and more terrible explosion occurred, which killed most of the rescuing party.

The two explosions were immediately followed by three minor explosions, but despite this, a party of rescuers went down the pit to attempt to succor their comrades, only to find five dead.

The deaths were all instantaneous, most of the bodies being mangled. An accummulation of gas which was ignited by the firing of a shot is believed to have been the cause of the disaster.

CRICKET IN ENGLAND.

London, July 9.—To-day the last two wickets of the South Africans fell for but six more runs, the side being out for 147, and England had thus a lead of 95 on the first inning of the fourth test match. In their second attempt they made 238, of which Spooner contributed 82, Hobbs 55 and Hearne 35. The Africanders require 334 to win.

New Undertaking Parlors.—Messrs. Sands & Fulton have opened up their new undertaking parlors at 1515 Quadra street, near Pandora. Mr. Sands was for some time manager for W. B. Smith, of the Victoria Undertaking parlors, and has lately associated himself with W. N. Fulton. The new firm has everything of the very best. A lady attendant will always be in attendance.

Interesting Enquiries.—There were several interesting applications for information from the Old Country at the office of the Vancouver Island Development League this morning. One from the Yorkshire woollen town of Bradford was a request asking about conditions of labor in this country and also about the climate. The unrest in labor circles in England and the sister isle is sending more settlers to the Dominion, where as yet labor unrest is practically unknown. A letter from Montreal asked what chance there is in Vancouver Island for a mechanic, while a civil engineer, who has spent some years in Jagersfontein, Transvaal, has written stating that he has a strong desire to turn down his present trade and start farming on a large scale in British Columbia. There was also an important communication from a capitalist now resident in Kamloops who wants to buy four or five thousands of acres of cleared land in the neighborhood of Comox.

Removal Notice.—W. B. Smith, of the Victoria Undertaking Parlors, has removed to larger and more convenient premises at 924 Johnson street, where they keep on hand a large stock of funeral furnishings, an inspection of which is open to the public at all times. Calls attended to punctually day or night. C. H. Johnson, embalmer and funeral conductor, late of Bonny Watson Company, Seattle.

Daughters of the Empire.—A special meeting of the Daughters of Empire was held this morning at the Alexandra Club, Mrs. Croft, regent of the Camosun chapter, presiding. The principal business of the meeting, as previously announced, was the formation of a municipal chapter—this chapter to occupy something in the nature of a general supervisor of all the other chapters of the Daughters of Empire in Victoria. The election of officers resulted in the following: Regent, Mrs. Croft; first vice-regent, Mrs. Home; second vice-regent, Mrs. Gordon; secretary, Mrs. H. C. Hanington; organizing secretary, Mrs. R. S. Day; treasurer, Mrs. Sampson; standard-bearer, Miss Brown. Ten councillors are to be elected from the chapters, which election, however, is to be deferred until the autumn when the constitution comes out. Otherwise the municipal chapter has been fully organized. During the morning considerable discussion of the work that is to be undertaken by the newly formed chapter took place, and it was decided that the annual rose festival, consideration of which was taken up at the last meeting, should be under the control of the municipal chapter. A letter was read from the Overseas Club asking the Daughters of Empire to attend the meeting which is to be held to-morrow evening in the K of P. hall, Mrs. Home and Mrs. Hanington being appointed as official representatives of the order.

Mr. P. G. Cox, wife and family, Honolulu, are spending a few days at the James Bay hotel.

OBITUARY RECORD

The death occurred this morning at the family residence, 2547 Blanchard street, of Mrs. Annie May Robertson, wife of Alex. S. Robertson. The deceased was 66 years of age, and had lived in this city for the last thirty-two years. She is survived by her husband, one son, J. M. Robertson; and one daughter, Mrs. Harry Marr, of Victoria, as well as several brothers and sisters. She was a well-known and highly respected resident of Victoria, and is mourned by many intimate friends. The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the family residence, Rev. Dr. Campbell officiating.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Annie M. Langley, who passed away last Sunday at her residence, 225 Quebec street, will take place to-morrow afternoon at 1.30, proceeding from the residence to the Reformed Episcopal church, where service will be held at 2 o'clock.

The death occurred on Saturday afternoon last of Norman Doman, 1221 Redland avenue. The deceased, who was 40 years of age, is survived by a wife and two children. He formerly belonged to Bath, England, and had lived in Victoria for nearly a year. The funeral will take place at 3 o'clock next Thursday afternoon, proceeding from the residence, Redland avenue, to Christ Church Cathedral.

THE WOODWORKERS' STRIKE.

Declare Strike is Not as Widespread as Represented.

The extent of the strike of the woodworkers, as stated in the Times yesterday, is questioned by Moore & Whittington, who declare they had more bench hands working yesterday than the account stated were at work in the whole city, namely fifteen, and that men who were out last week have already returned to work. The information given yesterday was compiled by union officials, who claim to know the extent of the walk-out by the men. Several Chinese have also returned to work.

A meeting will be held to-morrow night to decide what steps shall be taken to bring out the craft unions in sympathy with the striking woodworkers in the different mills. Moore & Whittington are among the firms who had granted the nine hour day before the present agitation arose.

Among the arrivals at the James Bay hotel are Mrs. and Miss Bebb, of Fernie.

Miss Walbran is leaving to-morrow for a visit in Tacoma, and will not be "at home" again until the second Wednesday in October.

The Department of Mines is in receipt of a telegram stating that David W. Moore, formerly ore buyer for the Trail smelter, lies seriously ill in Revelstoke hospital.

PREDICTS DESTRUCTION OF MANY CITIES

Wilbur Voliva Urges His Followers to Hurry to Zion City

Chicago, July 9.—Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer at Zion City, speaking Sunday at Central Zion Tabernacle, predicted the destruction of Chicago, New York and other large cities, and called on his followers to hurry to Zion City, which, he said, would be the only place spared when the devastation comes.

"God's judgment is going to fall on the cities of the nations," he shouted. "You must come out to Babylon. There is no choice in the matter. You must be in Zion City to escape."

CANOE FATALITY.

Seattle, Wash., July 9.—August Knust, 19 years old, was drowned Sunday afternoon in Lake Washington, in sight of his father and mother and scores of picnickers.

He was canoeing with Julius Krahn, when in some manner not clearly determined the light craft upset about 400 feet off shore. Krahn kept himself afloat until boats that put out from land reached him. Knust never rose.

A few seconds before the victim's mother had waved at him from shore, and he gayly waved her answer. The canoe turned over and both boys were thrown into the water.

The boys were attending the Baeron Riege picnic, on the east side of Mercer Island, about a quarter of a mile from Fortuna park. Neither of the boys had had any experience in managing canoes, but the water was smooth and they did not think that there was any danger.

WOUNDED BY BURGLAR.

L'Islet, Que., July 9.—Early yesterday morning Leon Coran, a jeweler, heard a noise in his store and proceeded downstairs to the premises. On entering the shop he found a man at work opening the safe, and at once closed with him. The burglar fired a revolver, shooting Caron in the back and rendering him unconscious. Caron was found in his store late yesterday and was still unconscious. The burglar had meantime escaped, and the police, who have a good description of him, are searching the country for the man.

BRIDE DISAPPEARS.

Toronto, July 9.—The disappearance and probably drowning of Mrs. John Campbell, aged 30, a bride of a month, is reported from Copperhead island, in the Georgian Bay.

Mrs. Campbell's husband, with his brother Archibald, keeps a summer hotel on the island, which is isolated, the only communication with the mainland being by daily steamer. Mrs. Campbell, who had been ill, left her bed at midnight, and a search for her for hours was fruitless.

HOW TO GROW HAIR ON A BALD HEAD

BY A SPECIALIST.

Thousands of people suffer from baldness and falling hair who, having tried nearly every advertised hair tonic and hair-grower without results, have resigned themselves to baldness and its attendant discomfort. Yet their case is not hopeless, the following simple home prescription has made hair grow after years of baldness, and is also unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color, stopping hair from falling out, and destroying the dandruff germs. It will not make the hair greasy, and can be put up by any druggist: Bay Rum, 3 ounces; Lavona de Composee, 2 ounces; Menthol Crystals, one-half drachm. If you wish it perfumed, add half to one teaspoonful to To-Kalon Perfume, which unites perfectly with the other ingredients. This preparation is highly recommended by physicians and specialists, and is absolutely harmless, as it contains none of the poisonous wood alcohol so frequently found in hair tonics. Do not apply to the face or where hair is not desired.

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE.

Measures of Safety for Sea-Going Vessels Will Be Considered.

Berlin, July 9.—A conference for the purpose of drawing up measures of safety for sea-going vessels is to be held in London in the autumn. Both the United States and Germany, which took the first initiative, have waived their claims. The German proposals to be presented to the conference will be drafted finally only after the holding of another German conference shortly before the meeting of the international conference in London.

SWEPT OVER FALLS.

Cobalt, Ont., July 9.—After 36 hours spent in the wilds of Temagimi, without food or shelter, and badly swollen from fly bites, Lester Timmins arrived at a camper's tent at Lake Temagimi yesterday and told of the drowning of his chum, W. R. Tarrington, of Syracuse, N. Y. The canoe in which the two men were paddling went over the lower Lady Evelyn Falls. Timmins managed to grab the limb of a tree after both men had gone over the falls.

MOORS DEFEATED.

Fez, Morocco, July 7.—Delayed in transmission.—A crushing defeat was inflicted to-day by the French General Gourard, with 3,000 men, on one of the most persistent enemies of France in Morocco, who is known as the Roqui of Sichtalla. The French surprised him near Moulay Bouchta.

After a severe fight Roqui fled, leaving sixty dead and abandoning his camp. The French lost three killed and eighteen wounded.

JAPANESE WHIPPING POST.

Elaborate Rules Make Corporal Punishment a Fine Art.

The Official Gazette, Tokio, contains an administrative order giving minute directions as to the method of application of corporal punishment in the Korea peninsula.

The culprit shall lie on his stomach, his hands stretched out above his head and fastened. Straps are to be passed round the body and round the knee joints and arms, with the clothes so arranged as to expose the hips. The executioner shall stand with his whip at arm's length, the tip protruding three inches over the edge of the prisoner's body. The executioner's left hand shall be on his left side, palm upwards, the right foot in advance, and bearing the weight of the body.

The stroke is to be delivered perpendicularly, and the skin is under no circumstances to be broken. The punishment is to take place one hour after a meal, and the prisoner, if he requires refreshment during the operations, shall be given a drink of fresh water.

The notice has provided the Tokio Press with an opportunity for displaying its wit. It is suggested that Mr. Yamamoto, minister of finance, might obtain something towards covering the deficit in the budget by making the spectacle a public one at a charge of a penny per head for spectators.

TALE OF THE SEA.

Seafaring people can generally quote plenty of instances to show how illluck dogs a captain once it has claimed him. I know of many such (writes "H. W.") but, the most curious case is connected with a small island or large rock in the Mediterranean. There is, or was, according to report, a man living on it. He had a goat which fed on the very limited verdure of the place, and from flotsam he made himself a hut. The crews of passing ships would point out the smoke from his fire, though I confess I never could discern it myself. The story is that he was a ship's captain who was twice wrecked on this lonely place, and rescued by passing vessels. One night he found his vessel piled up for the third time. His disgust was not lessened to find it was the same rock. His crew were rescued as before, but the captain refused to leave. He said it was no use. Fate would only send him back again, so he would stay where he was? I have sailed the Mediterranean in many different ships, but the story has always been told without variation.—Manchester Guardian.
